Camper Unit Owners Reminded Of New Tax

When you license that pickup truck you'd better also license the camper unit this year!

A bill passed by the 1969 Legislature requires registration and taxation of camper units which are defined in the bill as any structure designed and intended to be placed on a truck and to provide living quarters and which may be removed without dismantling or damage when ordinary care is exercised.

LB363 also provides that anyone who fails to comply shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine up to $50.

The owner of such a unit must make application to the county for a permit for the camper unit which will be issued after payment of taxes on the unit and a $2 permit fee.

The permit is a three-by-five-inch adhesive sticker with red background and black lettering which must be attached to the rear of the camper unit so as to be clearly visible from the outside of the unit.

The tax assessed on the campers is an ad valorem tax (based on value) the same as motor vehicle tax on automobiles.

According to Lancaster County Assessor Fritz Meyer, the camper units provided for under LB363 should not be construed to include a self-propelled mobile home or trailer camper.

These, he said, are still taxed like motor vehicles and require a separate license.

Until passage of LB363, which became effective Dec. 25, Meyer said that it had been difficult to tax the camper units which were taxed as personal property since no personal property tax forms are sent out to individuals any more.

When the Legislature did away with all intangible and most tangible property tax excepting those items used for income purposes, it was difficult to trace all camper units for taxation purposes since they were not registered in any way, he added.

Meyer said the permit requirement makes taxation of such campers more equitable with penalty provisions for failure to comply facilitating enforcement.

Measles Shots Given 3,200

. . . AT FREE CLINICS

Fifty-degree weather and five "Stop Measles Day" free public clinics combined Sunday in Lincoln as 3,183 children were immunized against common or red measles.

Children between one and 12 years of age received measles vaccine at the free clinics which were operated from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at Lincoln's four high schools and General Arnold Elementary School.

Well-pleased with the results, State Health Immunization Officer William Pack said the spring-like weather was a definite factor in the turnout.

"Maybe the kids would have rather been playing outdoors instead of getting measles shots," he said, "but I hate to think what the final count might have been had the weather been bad."

5,200 In Area

Mike Merwick, chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored immunization program, said an estimated 5,200 children in the Lincoln area had been without measles protection before the clinics.

"We had hoped to reach 2,500," he said, "so 3,183 that went through exceeded our expectations."

He said 1,214 children under six and 1,969 six years or older were vaccinated.

Totals by clinics were Northeast High, 906; Southeast High, 576; Lincoln High, 970; East High, 411, and General Arnold, 320.

Publicity Helped

Pack said publicity regarding epidemic outbreaks of the serious childhood disease elsewhere in the state probably increased the number of private immunizations in the city during recent weeks.

The vaccine was provided by the U.S. Public Health Service through the State Department of Health. Lincoln physicians and nurses volunteered their time to administer the vaccine.

The teams used jet-injection guns and one team immunized some 350 children during the first hour, which was the peak period at all the clinics.

Pack said clinics at other communities are scheduled through Feb. 3, including Tecumseh, Grand Island, Hastings and Beatrice.

Two Deaf Mutes Die In Hotel Fire

Chicago (AP) — Two young deaf mutes who could not hear the cries of warning died of smoke inhalation Sunday in a fire at the Conrad Hilton Hotel. Nineteen other persons were injured.

The two young men were with a group of 41 deaf mute students in Chicago to attend a basketball game. Twelve of the youngsters were injured. All the students were housed in rooms adjacent to the blaze.

Fire commissioner Robert J. Quinn said the two dead boys, students at the Jacksonville, Ill., School for Deaf Mutes, were Don Zanger of Quincy, Ill., and Bruce Kennedy of Morton Grove, Ill., both 18.

Quinn said firemen tried to give the youths mouth-to-mouth resuscitation "but they never had a chance. The smoke got them before we opened the door."

The fire official said the youths apparently did not hear hotel employees who rapped on doors and evacuated hotel patrons.

Authorities said the fire was confined to an elevator shaft at the ninth floor but that smoke wafted to the top floor of the building. Quinn estimated damage at $150,000.

Hundreds of guests at the plush 25-story downtown hotel fled from their rooms through fire escapes or interior stairways. Many were clad in nightclothes.

Authorities said many of the hotel's elevators short circuited because of the intense heat of the blaze on the ninth floor. Sleeping patrons were roused by hotel employees who rushed through corridors or by the sound of screaming on other floors.

Bones Discovered

Tokyo (AP) — Kyodo news service reported that scientists are digging up the bones of a dinosaur-like creature believed to have lived in the sea about 100 million years ago. Kyodo said a 17-year-old high school student found the first traces of the remains under a highway.

MAIL PLAN BACKED

. . . Union Support Tied To Raise

Washington (AP) — President Nixon's postal corporation plan has won postal union backing — contingent on an ironclad pay-raise agreement in return. This could clear the way for congressional approval this year.

But Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., who has been trying to work out a compromise among the unions, the White House and congressional opponents, says it may take another month to write a bill acceptable to all parties.

'Think It'll Fly'

"I think it will fly," he said in an interview. "But it will take some test-flying and some tidying up."

For one thing, Udall said, the White House "is not about to go as far as the unions would like" on the pay-raise agreement.

But the unions are no longer insisting the entire pay raise, expected to total more than 11%, be written into the bill so long as they get an ironclad agreement from the White House.

"It's a matter of precise language," Udall said. "We'll have to spell out what ironclad means."

Concerned

Some congressmen are concerned also that the agreement among the seven AFL-CIO postal unions might freeze out two large independent postal unions as recognized bargaining agents.

But even congressional opponents say the union backing, if it holds, likely would break the 13-13 tie vote by which the House Post Office Committee rejected the corporation concept last year.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, R-Pa., who told Postmaster General Winton M. Blount in advance that defeat was coming unless he could win union support, now says the chances of passage are remarkably good.

Johnson said a committee Republicans will meet Monday on the prospects.

Hits Inefficiencies

Nixon's plan, intended to wipe out inefficiencies that left a $1.2-billion postal deficit last year and to put the mails on a self-supporting basis by 1976, would replace the Congress-controlled Post Office Department with a government-owned corporation known as the U.S. Postal Authority.

The unions at first said they would buy a cost-conscious corporation only if Congress gave them the right to strike, which they knew it wouldn't.

But an ice-breaking agreement grew from meetings between White House aides and James H. Rademacher, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers, last month after Nixon served notice he would veto postal pay bills unless they were tied to a corporation — and the unions found there might not be enough votes in the Senate to override such vetoes.

Got Together

As Udall puts it, the unions had a veto over the postal corporation and Nixon had a veto over their pay bills so they got together.

Most points are not understood to be in dispute: a 5.4% increase for postal employees retroactive to Jan. 1; binding arbitration of contract disputes in lieu of the right to strike; and permanent Civil Service status.

But the unions, contending they averaged a 4.1% pay raise last year while other federal employees averaged 9%, want an ironclad pledge they will get the same raise as other federal employees in July — expected to be 5.7% — on top of the 5.4% in January.

In addition, the unions want the bill to provide top-scale for postal employees in eight years instead of the present 20.

White House spokesmen did not return telephone inquiries on whether they could go along with those two points.

Israeli Jets Pound Egyptians In Quickening Mid-East Action

By The Associated Press

Israeli jets continued Sunday their almost daily attacks against Egyptian positions and action along the Israeli-Lebanon border heated up for the first time in more than three weeks.

In both cases, the battle of claim and counterclaim about casualties and damage was as fierce as the military action.

Saudi Arabia said Sunday that gunners brought down two French-made Super Mysteres during two raids by Israeli jets against Saudi forces stationed south of the Dead Sea.

Planes Come In Waves

Cairo said 20 Israeli planes flew over Egyptian Red Sea and Suez Gulf positions early Sunday in "consecutive waves." A military spokesman said Egyptian anti-aircraft shot down one enemy plane, which was seen "plunging in flames into gulf waters."

The Israeli military command in Tel Aviv said all planes returned safely.

The Egyptians said one target of the Israeli attacks was a civilian transport vessel. They said six members of its crew were injured and that it was towed safely to shore.

Troop Transport

Israeli spokesmen said the ship was a troop transport and was attacked after it fired on Israeli aircraft. They said the planes left it stranded on a reef. The ship was attacked near Shadwan Island at the mouth of the Suez Gulf. Israeli troops occupied Shadwan for 32 hours two days ago.

On the Lebanese front, Beirut said two Lebanese civilians were killed and two more wounded by an Israeli artillery attack Saturday night on the southern border village of Aita Chaab.

Tel Aviv said its southern border settlement of Zarrit escaped casualties from a mortar barrage loosed by Arab guerrillas from Lebanon during the night.

Saudi's Monitored

Saudi radio, monitored in Damascus, said the Israeli air attacks in which the Saudis claimed two kills were the second and third since Wednesday. It said three soldiers were wounded in Sunday's raids and reported one killed and 11 wounded in the earlier foray.

The escalation of Egyptian-Israeli fighting was triggered by the occupation of Shadwan Island at midweek. Egyptian spokesmen called Shadwan a "turning point and a remarkable new stage" in the conflict.

Lebanon, which recently announced a new $30 million defense program, "politely but firmly" turned down an Iraqi offer of 7,000 troops to help defend its southern border with Israel.

Low-Income Housing Praised

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

"A person with some initiative can make this place just like heaven," Heinz Matthiesen, resident manager of Northwood Terrace said, commenting about the low-income housing project at 23rd and Y Sts.

Matthiesen, formerly a supervisor of an Air Force base housing area in England, proudly said that the city should have "a couple thousand units more like this" while describing the many conveniences offered to the low-income tenants.

The tenants consist of low-income families, low-income married university students, and the low-income elderly.

First Such Project

The project is the first one operated by the Lincoln Housing Authority in which there is a mix of the three categories. Apartment buildings for the elderly are presently under the housing authority's rent assistance program.

The conveniences in the apartment building include wall-to-wall carpeting, central air heating, a recreation room, new refrigerator and stove, cable TV hookup and a laundry room on each floor.

There is also a bus stop one-half block away and vacuum cleaners may be checked out from the manager without charge for a two-hour period.

The resident manager said a supervised playground is also being planned.

One Occupied

The apartment complex, which will consist of three buildings, is expected to be finished in May. One of the three buildings is fully occupied with the other two still to be completed.

Presently housed are 21 low-income families, 7 married university couples, and an elderly person. There are also an equal number of black and white families and which are mixed on the different floors.

The project, made possible through a commitment by five Lincoln-based insurance firms to provide low-income housing, will eventually house 78 families.

Optimistic

Matthiesen said he is optimistic that the project will be successful. "It takes a lot of cooperation and patience, though, for a project such as this."

The resident manager said that during the first month he had doubts about whether the project would work. "But now, the problems, in most cases, have worked themselves out," he said.

Matthiesen said rules and regulations are necessary in view of the compactness of the situation. "These rules are made for their (the tenants') benefit so that they can enjoy peaceful living."

Noise Problem

He said the main initial problem was noise. "We had trouble with people playing their radios and television sets too loud and kids' running the hallways."

"They had to remember that they are living close to others and not in a house a distance from another house," the resident manager said.

Matthiesen said there are still about 10 who do not abide by the rules.

He said a tenant association is being formed which he hopes will take care of the little problems that arise.

Tenants' Feelings

How do the tenants like living in the housing project?

Mrs. Angelee Temple, who lives in an apartment unit with her two children, said she is "quite thrilled" with her place.

Born and raised in Lincoln, Mrs. Temple said she is "living a lot better than ever before." She said she previously lived in a substandard house for which she paid nearly the same rent.

"The people here have been very friendly and nice," she said.

Mrs. Sarah Watlie, who like Mrs. Temple is black, said she is also "very pleased" with her new living situation.

Mrs. Watlie said she is optimistic that the project will be successful and that any problems that do come up can be solved through the tenant association.

John Goessman, chairman of a committee responsible for screening and recommending tenants, said that his committee is holding off interviewing more applicants until after a firm completion date is known for each of the two other buildings.

Goessman said the committee will interview people four weeks in advance of their being housed. Low-income persons, though, are encouraged now to apply for housing at Northwood Terrace.

Jerusalem — Israel announced that her forces had disabled an Egyptian vessel said to be in the naval service near the island in the Gulf of Suez that Israelis had occupied last week. The Israelis said the vessel had fired on Israeli aircraft. The Egyptians said the vessel was a civilian freighter and was attacked without provocation. (More on Page 1.)

Party Threatens To Pull Out

Jerusalem — Unless an Israeli high court decision that would allow persons who were Gentile according to rabbinical law to be registered as Jews by nationality is changed by legislation, the National Religious Party warned the government, the party will resign from the coalition cabinet. The effect would precipitate a crisis even if the government did not fall.

Food Supply Is Dwindling

Amo-Omamma, Nigeria — A hospital in the heart of the Nigerian territory that was Biafra was reported to be down to a two-day supply of food for its 300 patients. Only one truckload of relief food has reached the Awo-Omamma Hospital since the civil war ended, and though the Uli airstrip is only six miles away, the Nigerians refuse to use it.

Dubcek Leaves For Turkey

Vienna — Alexander Dubcek left Prague for his new post as ambassador to Turkey amid rumors that the former Czechoslovak Communist Party chief would lose his last party function, his seat on the central committee.

'Lobbyists' Swarm Washington

Washington — Hundreds of amateur lobbyists — from school superintendents and college financial aid directors to librarians and educational equipment manufacturers — arrived in Washington from all over the country to try to prod Congress into overriding President Nixon's expected veto of the health and education appropriation bill.

Fewer Seminaries Proposed

New York — The Rev. Almus M. Thorp Sr., executive director of the board for theological education of the Episcopal Church, disclosed that the board has recommended that the denomination's 11 seminaries be reduced to five or fewer in light of dwindling financial support and continued small enrollments.

Yablonski Probe Narrows

Washington — The investigation of the person or group thought to have paid the killers of Joseph A. Yablonski and his wife and daughter was said to have narrowed to perhaps one suspect. Federal authorities also confirmed the recovery of an M-1 carbine believed to be the murder weapon.

End To Daily Pledge Urged

New York — A letter being mailed Monday to the principals of the city's 63 academic high schools by the High School Principals Association urges the schools to suspend the daily pledge of allegiance and salute to the flag because of an apparent contradiction between a state law requiring the ceremony and a recent court ruling permitting students to dissent from it without leaving the room.

Governor's Son Is Arrested

Philadelphia — A suspicious Pennsylvania highway patrolman searched John P. Cahill, the 19-year-old son of New Jersey's new Republican governor, William T. Cahill, in a rundown section of Philadelphia and arrested the youth for possession of marijuana. The governor asked that his son "be treated the same as any other young man in similar circumstances." # Good Calf, Knowledge Produce Champ

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Denver — How does one go about raising a champion steer?

According to Rachel Doeschot of Firth, whose Tear Drop was dubbed the No. 1 steer at the National Western Stock Show here, there are many factors.

"First, you have to have a good calf. This I have to thank the Lester Herman Cattle Co. of Lakeside for, because Tear Drop looked like a winner from the start," Rachel said.

"A good calf won't get far without good care," added the company's owners, Bruce and Tommy Herman and Bill Bignell. "And Rachel did a splendid job with Tear Drop."

Rachel is a firm believer in the importance of good ancestry. Since Tear Drop was sired in a herd, his father is unknown. But Rachel knew that the bulls came from the registered Hereford herds of W. J. Iodence of Hemingford and Dr. E. Von Tour of Alliance.

Harlan Doeschot, Rachel's father, said, "Tear Drop's mother was one of the best cows I have ever seen. She is the kind that a cattleman just knows will produce good cattle."

Rachel also emphasized the importance of experience in training and caring for the animal. Although she was modest about her own knowledge of cattle, she has devoted a great deal of time to the profession.

The Doeschot family feeds cattle and proudly maintains a select herd of registered Hereford cows. Rachel's father has obviously imparted much of his extensive knowledge to his daughters.

A few years ago, Rachel's older sister, Sheryl, went to the Nebraska State Fair, with Rachel as a supporter. Both the champion steer and the champion market heifer were Doeschot animals.

Other Doeschot wins include the Blue Valley Hereford Show and the Lancaster County Fair.

Now Rachel is seconded by her younger sister, Peggy. She shows every sign of following in her sisters' footsteps.

Teamship is a kind of philosophy for the Doeschots. When Tear Drop got a little brother recently, they had no misgivings about letting the calf go to some friends in Iowa. "It was this Iowa family that taught us a lot we had to know about showing cattle," they explained.

The $12,180 received for Tear Drop from Safeway Stores will be split several ways, Rachel said.

'Religious Causes'

"I want to donate 10% for religious causes," she said. "This will be divided several ways, possibly some going to Billy Graham."

"Then I want to use a big part of the balance for going to the University of Nebraska," the 17-year-old Norris High School senior said.

A question asked often at the Denver show was, "Where is Firth?" One Nebraska cattleman had a laugh on that. "You might say Tear Drop really put Firth on the nation's map in bold print," he said. You might also say the Doeschot girls had a hand in that.

Omaha (AP) — Herzbergs, a chain of women's clothing stores, has announced it will open stores in Hastings, North Platte and downtown Omaha.

The chain has other stores at Norfolk, Fremont and Omaha Crossroads.

Richard Goldman, executive vice president, said the downtown Omaha store will open next month. Herzbergs vacated its former downtown location last February.

He said the company plans to open a Hastings store in August and one in North Platte next year.

By Glenn Kreuscher, Farm Editor

"The honeymoon is over for Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin. We must have action to replace this nice, calm atmosphere of not having any activity in getting some legislation for agriculture," declared a wheat farmer attending the National Western Stock Show in Denver.

Kreuscher

The wheat farmer was upset because if no new wheat legislation is enacted by mid-April, the secretary of agriculture will be required to decide whether or not marketing quotas will be established for the 1971 wheat crop.

This is just one of the statutes that will become effective with expiration of the present Food and Agricultural Act of 1965 unless a new farm bill is passed.

With no new farm legislation, the national average loan rate would be set, subject to referendum approval, by two-thirds of growers, using the same criteria as presently, but the total return from loan plus certificates would likely be at 65 to 90% of parity, instead of 100% as at present.

If a farmer referendum that must be held by August 15 resulted in a turn-down by growers, the program benefit for wheat growers would be a price support loan at 50% of parity for those who stayed within their allotments.

The big fear among many farmers is that this route might just be what the secretary of agriculture would like to see to meet his requirements of reducing loan support price and to create a world agriculture economy with trade going to the country with the cheapest price on its products.

In the past, it seemed like the livestockman might not have paid as much attention to farm programs as now.

One reason for this is that cattlemen are questioning the Nixon administration's dedication to a freer trade concept based on what Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Clarence Palmby calls "economic comparative advantage."

If Palmby has his way in developing a world agriculture economy based on who can produce beef the cheapest, the cattleman can see himself swamped in cheap foreign imports.

Nebraska wheat growers attending the recent national convention of the National Association of Wheat Growers in Oklahoma City said Palmby, the featured speaker, gave no hint of any method to increase income for the wheat farmer.

"Wheat for feed is the solution to the over-production problem facing America's wheat farmers," said Palmby.

Maybe President Lyndon Johnson saw the handwriting on the wall in regard to his successor's plans for agriculture. World-wide reporting turned up a Wall Street Journal story suggesting the ex-president Wimmer says you find the same problems bothering independent business that you find disturbing agriculture.

"If we dispense with rural America, we dispense with America. It is time the independent businessman asks what agriculture and business can do together," says Wimmer.

Wimmer says the small businessman "can't get money on a long-term basis which is vital to the future of the independent businessman."

Nebraskans will have an opportunity to participate in the National Educational Television program, The Advocates, Feb. 8, with a live broadcast from the University of Nebraska Coliseum.

The Advocates will explore the question, "Should Congress limit farm subsidy payments to no more than $20,000 per family farm?"

During the course of this national program, the Nebraska audience will register reaction to the program via computers.

KUON-TV will produce a follow-up program, one hour long, dealing with a variation of timely agricultural issues.

Interested farm groups can secure details from Joel Fowler, senior producer for public affairs, KUON-TV, University of Nebraska, Lincoln.

Three meetings are planned in eastern Nebraska this week by the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission to explain LB1357, the new natural resource districts legislation.

Monday the meeting will be in Sioux City at the Marina Inn; Tuesday, at Lincoln in the Lincoln Hotel, and Wednesday at Hebron's American Legion Hall. All meetings start at 9:30 a.m.

The meetings are mainly for present district officials, but any interested person is invited to attend.

6 Months' Federal Spending In 1st District $272.9 Million

Washington — Rep. Robert V. Denney, R-Neb., reported Sunday that Nebraska's First Congressional District received $272.9 million in federal funds in the first half of fiscal 1969.

"This amount represents 33.5% of the $814.2 million spent within the entire state during this six-month period," he said.

"In almost every one of the district's 27 counties, Department of Agriculture funds take the lead," Denney reported. "Nebraska ranks seventh among the 50 states in federal funds allotted to the farmer."

The congressman pointed out that of the 30 federal departments and agencies spending money within his district, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's $66.6 million ranked near the top.

Defense spending was also high with $30 million in contracts.

Lancaster County received $87.1 million, more than four times the amount spent in the next nearest county. Stanton County received the least of the 27 counties with $2.5 million.

The county breakdown, with ranking by amount of federal money spent, was as follows: Butler, 14th, $7,479,933; Cedar, 18th, $4,741,699; Colfax, 16th, $5,426,601; Cuming, 20th, $4,512,199; Dakota, 2nd, $18,548,286; Dixon, 25th, $3,469,982; Dodge, 4th, $11,424,116; Fillmore, 8th, $9,098,928; Gage, 3rd, $12,394,485; Jefferson, 13th, $8,145,242; Johnson, 24th, $3,543,852; Knox, 19th, $4,583,734; Lancaster, 1st, $87,100,476; Madison, 5th, $9,895,149; Nemaha, 17th, $4,892,115; Otoe, 10th, $8,494,755; Pawnee, 26th, $3,271,798; Pierce, 23rd, $3,566,548; Richardson, 15th, $6,673,335; Saline, 6th, $9,789,054; Saunders, 9th, $9,023,947; Seward, 11th, $3,406,908; Stanton, 27th, $2,493,425; Thayer, 12th, $8,176,354; Thurston, 21st, $4,381,011; Wayne, 22nd, $3,602,916; and York, 7th, $9,744,173.

3 Persons In Hospital After Bus-Car Collision

Schuyler (P) — Three persons were hospitalized Sunday following a collision involving a school bus of the Scotus Central Catholic basketball team of Columbus and a Fremont car.

A 17-year-old basketball player, Ken Bonk of Columbus, was reported in satisfactory condition at a Columbus hospital. Admitted to a Schuyler hospital were Donovan D. Northrup, 27, and his 37-year-old wife, Jeanette, of Fremont.

Sheriff Richard Kruse of Schuyler said the bus containing the basketball team was west-bound on U.S. 30 about one mile west of Schuyler when it was in collision with the eastbound Northrup car.

After the collision, the sheriff said, the bus slid into a ditch sideways. There were 24 young people, two coaches and a driver aboard the bus returning Saturday night from a game with Fremont Bergan.

The driver of the bus was identified as Jerome Jarecki, 37, of Columbus.

Using Omaha Radar Station For Penal Purposes Eyed

Omaha (P) — Gov. Norbert Tiemann will be asked to consider use of the old North Omaha Radar Station for penal and educational purposes.

Douglas County Board Chairman George Buglewicz said it could be a prisoner work-release center or a juvenile "halfway" house and correction farm.

The 40-acre radar station was turned down Friday as the site for the Nebraska Law Enforcement Training Center. The center will go to Grand Island.

Sheriff Ted Janing said he would survey the jail at the police station and the minimum security jail, with the thought of using them temporarily while the county jail is being remodeled. A bond issue for jail rebuilding may go to the voters in May.

Buglewicz said it has been proposed that after repair, the county jail be used only for maximum security prisoners. If the present county jail could be repaired and if the state allows use of the radar station, Buglewicz said the possibilities are "limitless."

"We could have a modern jail in the courthouse and a rehabilitation and educational institute at the radar station," he said.

"This should give us one of the most up-to-date local penal and correctional systems in the country."

Missouri Valley History Meeting Set For March

Omaha (UPI) — Several hundred persons from throughout the Midlands are expected to attend the 13th annual Missouri Valley History Conference March 12 to 14 in Omaha.

Dr. Richard Overfield, assistant professor of history at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, is program chairman for the event sponsored by the UNO history department and the conference division of the UNO College of Continuing Studies.

Professor Douglas Pike, now visiting Commonwealth scholar at St. John's College in Cambridge, England, will be among the conference speakers. He also will speak at UNO March 11.

A member of the faculty at Australian National University, Professor Pike is the author of many publications dealing with the history of Australia.

About 50 persons will present papers during the three-day conference. This group will include UNO faculty members Harl Delatrom and William C. Pratt.

Training Slated In Omaha Area For 60 Jobless

Washington (P) — The Lozier Corp. of Omaha, Neb., will hire and train 60 jobless persons under a Job Opportunities in the Business Sector (JOBS) contract announced by the U.S. Department of Labor.

On-the-job training will last from 14 to 26 weeks, after which the workers will be paid $2.35 to $2.45 per hour.

The government will pay $58,920 to help with the program, which was made under an agreement with Local 3 of the Sheet Metal Workers International Union, the employees' bargaining agent.

The Nebraska Division of Employment and the Omaha Concentrated Employment Program are to refer the trainees to the company.

OLD NEBRASKA FRIENDS MEET AGAIN

Two former University of Nebraska classmates and fraternity brothers met unexpectedly when a delegation of Nebraska senators visited the Washington state legislature recently. Lincoln Sen. W. F. Swanson (center) ran into Castle Rock, Wash., Rep. Alan Thompson (left), with whom he attended NU during the late 1940s. Thompson, now serving in his third term in the Washington house, is a native of Omaha, a former member of The Lincoln Star sports staff and was a letterman on the NU track teams of '47, '48 and '49. He is the publisher of two weekly newspapers in Washington. Walla Walla Rep. Thomas Copeland is at right.

Future Of Catholic Schools Studied

Omaha (P) — The Omaha Archdiocese, embracing 23 eastern Nebraska counties, will complete a study of prospects for continued operation of Catholic schools Feb. 8.

Officials said recommendations will be made a few days after the study ends. They declined to speculate on the results, which could range from a large-scale shut down of Catholic schools to no change in the present operation.

The Omaha School District's $20 million bond election to finance a five-year building program will go to the voters early in March. Some persons have argued for a delay in the bond issue, to determine the plans of Catholic schools.

Committees in 162 parishes in the archdiocese have been at work since September on the study, which takes in religious education for adults and public

Lincoln Woman's Condition Serious After Auto Mishap

A 20-year-old Lincoln woman was reported in serious condition at Bryan Memorial Hospital Sunday evening with injuries suffered in a two-vehicle mishap at 9th and O.

Police identified her as Minerva Salinas of 2945 R St.

According to police, she was driving a car which was south-bound on 9th when it collided with a westbound vehicle driven by 73-year-old Reuben Johnson of Newman Grove.

Police said Johnson was not hospitalized after the Sunday morning mishap.

Meat Imports Do Affect U.S. Stockmen—Hardin

Washington (P) — Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin lined up Sunday with cattlemen against some consumer claims that larger meat imports would not hurt U.S. livestock producers.

Hardin told the American National Cattlemen's Association the present system of reaching voluntary import agreements with foreign suppliers seems to be working.

"Let me assure you that I do not agree with the argument that because the imports are of primarily lower grades, they do not affect our own industry," Hardin told an estimated 1,500 cattlemen.

"Live With Them"

"They do, but I believe that the voluntary program keeps imports to where the industry can live with them. It respects your right to a fair and reasonable competitive situation at home, and at the same time it recognizes the United States' respect for historical trade patterns."

The ANCA has opposed vigorously any suggestion that the 1964 meat import law might be changed or stretched to allow more meat imports to help ease the grip on housewives food budgets.

Most of the imported meat is beef used in hamburger and other manufactured meat products. It comes mainly from Australia, New Zealand and Latin America.

Allocations are set each year, based on U.S. production. If the Agriculture Department estimates that the basic import allowance will be exceeded by 10% or more, the White House can impose strict quotas.

Quotas Avoided

Such action has been avoided the past two years only because the United States has worked out voluntary restraint agreements with supplying countries for them to keep total shipments at less than the quota trigger level.

Similar agreements have been reached again for 1970 imports, Hardin noted.

Meat importers and some consumer spokesmen have argued that the leaner, lower quality imported meat does not affect U.S. livestock prices, since most meat produced domestically is from grain-fed animals which consumers have come to demand for finer cuts.

The ANCA, which has about 6,500 members nationally, opened its annual convention here over the weekend. The meeting will end Wednesday.

Phelps Named

Omaha — Dr. H. Vaughn Phelps, Westside Community Schools superintendent, has been elected vice president of the American Association of School Administrators.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

You just have to conclude sometimes that it is a crazy world in which we live. There are, for instance, some nutty things that happen. Take the case of John Gomez of Los Angeles.

His daughter, four years old, lodged a piece of popcorn in her ear. All the family efforts to get the popcorn out of the ear failed and the little girl ended up in the hospital for surgery. The whole thing cost Mr. Gomez $420.90, and he had recently cancelled his health insurance as too expensive.

That's pretty typical of family life. It seems there is always something happening of a most unusual or even unexplainable nature. How does a bed sheet get ripped down the middle or how can anyone get a hand towel all twisted up in the garbage disposal?

Things happen daily to remind you of the sometimes peculiar ways of people. It happened recently at the famous New York department store of Abercrombie & Fitch Co. The store had a sale on a host of items that were white elephants on its hands.

Normally, no one would ever buy the items but the advertised sale brought long lines of people to buy everything offered, even to fight for the items in some cases. Store executives were quoted by the Wall Street Journal as saying that if the price is right, there's a customer for anything.

That reminds us of some of the garage sales that are held around the city. A friend once held such a sale and was dumbfounded at the results. In getting ready for the sale, the family had gone through closets, drawers and all areas where things had been stashed away unused for years. Traditional junk drawers were cleaned out.

In the process, the man threw away four or five incomplete decks of cards. His wife retrieved the cards, put a rubber band around them and sold all five decks together for 15 cents.

Now, 15 cents is not a lot of money, but who in the world would want four or five incomplete decks of cards? Someone did, apparently for some kind of craft hobby he had.

There is probably nothing in this world for which there is not a customer if one could always get the product and the person together. The want ads the other day offered two snow tires for sale. The ad said that the tires were suitable for recapping.

Two snow tires for $5 may not be a bad deal but you have to wonder if they are worth it if they need recapping. Still, we would not be at all surprised if the fellow sold the tires.

Want ads, of course, are a fascinating department of your newspaper. You can read the ads and not only pick up some bargains but see what might be some interesting stories.

A hospital bed for sale, for instance, might mean that a family illness has been conquered or, perhaps, something on the tragic side. A camping tent, never used, makes you wonder.

Did someone buy it with intentions of camping out and then never got the job done? Or maybe he swapped something and is just disposing of his end of the bargain.

A lot of times you will read in the want ads of items the owner "must sell." You wonder why. Does the owner need the money, is it a young man going into the military or perhaps a family getting a job transfer? If they really "must sell," there would have to be a tale of some kind to go along with it.

Then, there are areas of higher finance that befuddle one at first glance. Would you believe, for instance, that Life magazine lost around $10 million in 1969, that McCall's is losing money and that Look is probably using red ink on its ledgers?

That's the situation, according to Congressional Quarterly. The average person might think that if he owned such impressive national publications, he would have it made but such is obviously not the case.

But such a record should make the average guy feel pretty good. If he manages to break even with his own personal finances, he is doing better than a lot of high-powered executives. Maybe you can't call it a crazy world, but it certainly isn't dull.

VIRGINIA PAYETTE

News Media Seem In For Difficult Time

NEW YORK — Well, the worm has turned. Now Nixon has the press to kick around.

It must give the President a certain feeling of satisfaction to see what's happening to the folks he blasted bitterly when he lost the governorship of California. That's when he promised them "they wouldn't have Nixon to kick around any more."

It's a whole new ball game now: the Government vs. Mass Media. And, any way you add up the score, the politicians are piling up points.

Vice President Agnew fired the first stand-up shot at a few selected newspapers, networks and other broadcasters. He said they weren't fair and, besides, they left out good news about the administration.

His reference to the fact that broadcasters are licensed by the government, in this context, was just short of terrifying. (To broadcasters, anyway — they have licenses.)

A TV station in Miami and one in New York are currently defending their licenses, at enormous cost, because new groups say they will offer better public service.

In what was maybe meant to be a reassurance, the Federal Communications Commission issued word that their radio and TV licenses are safe — providing they keep their noses clean by "substantially" serving the needs of their communities.

And — don't go away; there's more — so long as they aren't guilty of any other "serious deficiencies" in operating their stations.

To broadcasters, this sounded like a threat.

The FCC requires them, in effect, to editorialize. And now it looks as if they may have to editorialize the right way.

Then there's the Milton Eisenhower report on how much newspapers and TV fostered violence — by showing up to report the battles. It concluded it wasn't all that much, but it thought the government, among others, should discourage "increased concentration of control over existing media" and the media might indulge in creative self-criticism.

Now a Vermont lawmaker wants a law that newspapers have to give the same space to acquittals as to the original charge.

And then, just so nobody misses the point, there is a proposal for a government-backed network that would be free of all these influences. There's nothing like a nice impartial government view of things.

And, in case you don't keep track of all the statistics around, the government is already spending around $400 million a year in various information services, which is more than all the news agencies combined.

So, dear reader — while you enjoy your least-favorite newsmen's comeuppance — be aware of the mounting pressures (by law and by threat), which could just leave you wondering what really IS going on in the world.

Israelis, Using Helicopters And Power Saws, Snatch Seven-Ton Radar Station From Egypt's Coastal Position

Israel's Hair Trigger

People in this country are admiring of, and, in a sense, thrilled by Israel's showing of daring and ingenuity in recent raids on military installations on Arab-controlled soil. Certainly the Israelis are displaying more guts than their punch-drunk Arab enemies, but they are also charting a provocative course of aggression and are likely to lose the sympathy and help of some of their friends.

The commando raid on the Egyptian island of Shadwan last week in which military equipment and personnel were captured and upwards of 60 Egyptian soldiers slain was a triumphant Israeli followup to the radar-napping foray so skillfully executed closer to Suez some time ago.

Those actions go hand in hand with the recent and frequent aerial strikes on targets un-comfortably close to Cairo and the Israeli army raid into Jordan. One reason given by the Israelis for the escalation of military activity is to discourage Arab guerrilla raids across Israel's borders.

Another reason, as analyzed by the New York Times Service, is that Israel is conducting a "pre-emptive war" aimed at reducing the Egyptian military capacity to a point where a pre-emptive strike of the kind Israel launched in 1967 to end a military threat will not be required.

Much of the world, however, will view the recent activities as nothing more than naked aggression, whatever name is put on the strategy. A war launched with the purpose of halting a possibly more general war is still not a policy of peace and the world's belief in Israel's desire for peace could be eroded.

No Sympathy For Cause

The righteous-sounding opposition by Florida Gov. Kirk to "forced busing" of school children is a position with which we can muster very little sympathy. It is legalistic to argue the unconstitutionality of forced busing when the main thrust of the argument is support of segregated education.

While artificial transportation of students from one school district to another has its weak points, one must look at the practical alternatives. Such movement is the only real solution to segregation in much of the South because of the circumstances of housing.

It does little good to subscribe to the principle of integration if housing patterns rule out such a development. If black students live in one area and whites in another, there can be no integration without some form of transporting students.

Trial Proceeding Of 'Chicago Seven' Unusual; State Of Mind, Not Words, Deeds, Focal Point

CHICAGO — An air of unreality hangs over the trial of the so-called Chicago Seven, and not merely because it keeps turning up such witnesses as Country Joe, the leader of the rock group known as Country Joe and the Fish.

Bearded, wearing an Indian headband and purple boots, he gave his name to the court simply as Country Joe. And when the prosecution demanded full identification, Judge Julius Hoffman replied in tones of resignation: "Well, I assume his Christian name must be 'Country.'"

But again, it is not just Judge Hoffman's undeniable theatrical gifts nor even the widespread belief — given frequent official voice by defense counsel — that he favors the prosecution, that makes this landmark trial seem so alien to a conventional assumption of the fitness of things.

It is more nearly because there is so little talk or testimony about any of the familiar events that might be thought to be at issue. Surprisingly little is being said about the actual events that surrounded the Democratic convention of 1968, the marches, the police response, the violence in the streets, and although echoes of grim nights in Grant Park keep coming through — their vibrations were certainly bad, as Country Joe put it — the testimony here is focused elsewhere, and rather hazily at that.

Judge Hoffman would not admit into evidence, for instance, the recorded transcript of a news conference held by Jerry Rubin — a defendant — in Chicago on August 30, the day after the convention and the violence ended. Yet Country Joe, who recited the words to his "Vietnam Rag" in their entirety for a silent courtroom also told at length of meeting Rubin and Abbie Hoffman, another defendant, in the Chelsea Hotel in New York the previous winter; they talked about bringing his rock band to Chicago for the "festival" being planned for convention week.

During his cross-examination of Roger Wilkins, a defense witness, Assistant Prosecutor Richard Schulz asked a series of challenging questions about Mr. Wilkins' pre-convention meeting with Rennie Davis, one of the defendants. The defense protested that Mr. Schulz was improperly using the previous testimony of other witnesses as a basis for the cross-examination.

Mr. Schulz replied that he was only trying to show that while Davis might have been telling Mr. Wilkins — then a Justice Department official — that he wanted to avoid violence during the convention, Davis might have been, in fact, "thinking other thoughts."

And that, in the final analysis, is why this sometimes ludicrous proceeding seems to have so little relationship, not just to what happened in Chicago in August of 1968, but to any of our familiar notions of what trials are all about, of what constitutes legal guilt, of what the law's limits are in America.

The Chicago Seven are not being tried for committing acts of violence in August of 1968; nor are they even being tried for having CAUSED the violence that did take place. They are, rather, charged with "conspiring" to disrupt the convention by violence, and it is this "conspiracy" — whether it existed — that is the issue in Judge Hoffman's court. It is at least theoretically possible, therefore, that even had there been no violence at all, the seven could still be on trial here for taking part in the alleged conspiracy.

Violence did, of course, take place in Chicago in August, 1968. It may be that some, or

By DON WALTON

Hey, non-partisan state senators. Let's open up the primary election system in Nebraska.

Let's start writing election laws in Nebraska designed for the voters, not for the parties. A novel idea, what say?

Consider Wisconsin, if you will.

Voters in Wisconsin register to vote — period. They are not asked to state their party preference and then confined to vote in that party's primary election. They just register as voters and, come primary time, they choose the party ballot they prefer to consider in that particular election.

In Nebraska, of course, Republicans are confined in the primary to the GOP ballot, and Democrats to the Democratic ticket. Those of us who happen to be registered as independents are shut out of the primary process altogether, except for non-partisan offices and issues.

For most Nebraskans, party membership — like church affiliation — is inherited, not chosen out of deep conviction. Identifying your party affiliation when you register is sort of a reflex action, not a considered judgment. Witness the mass of so-called "Democrats" in Omaha.

By opening the primary process and allowing each voter to choose whichever party primary he wishes to participate in each election year, Nebraska would be giving its citizens a greater opportunity to shape their government by permitting them to vote in the most hotly contested primary races which interest them the most.

Political parties might argue that such a system would kill them off. But, please note, Wisconsin has two strong political parties despite the open primary.

Walton

And that state has generally been far ahead of most of the nation in terms of progressive government.

Sorry, son, your hair's too long.

But what difference does that make?

We've decided how you should cut your hair, son. We like it short — like the army cuts it. We wore our hair short when we were in school and if it was good enough for us, it's good enough for you. Nothing like a good fuzzezz to set your mind right, son.

But I'd rather wear it long.

Now, son, we make the rules. You just follow them. You keep your hair short and your nose clean and do your studying real good, and get yourself prepared for a career in which you can make good money.

So you can draft me and send me off to war?

You'll be a better man for it, son. If it was good enough for us, it's good enough for you.

But I don't want to go to war.

Son, I told you, we make the rules. Each generation has to go to war and defend us. How else you gonna qualify for the American Legion?

I don't want to join the American Legion.

That'll be enough of that, son. You get a haircut and get your mind right.

Why does my hair bother you so much?

It doesn't bother me, dammit. It just doesn't look good. It's too long. It's untidy. It's just not neat. And it's dirty.

I wash it every day. Do you wash yours every day?

Don't sass me, son.

Why aren't you more concerned about me dying in a war than about the length of my hair?

Now, son, that does concern me. We'll send the best weapons and equipment we can afford with you.

Cook, Neb.
Just want to add some important words to the letter titled, "The Spokesman," written by "Farmer's Wife."

We have another dedicated spokesman who has the farmer at heart, also. This is George (Bill) Burrows, who is Democratic candidate for congressman from the First District. It's about time all the farmers stick together. Let's stand up and be counted, and get someone in office who cares about what is happening to us.

The ones who hold office are there to represent us. Let's be sure we elect someone who is going to do just that.

Farmer's Share

Linwood, Neb.
The January 20 Lincoln Star front-page headline: "Cost of Living Up 6.1% in '69," taken from The New York Times, hit me and all farmers right below the belt and burned another hole in our sieve-like bank accounts. The paragraph in bold black italics that said food prices were the chief culprit in the December increase was aimed at the brain-washed city consumers so they would in their rightful anger turn that anger in the wrong direction and take it out further on the farmer, instead of rightfully where it belongs against the super-rich, chain store, industrial, Farm Bureau complex, which is unjustly getting part of the farmer's fair share.

It's a sad and disgusting feeling to farmers like me when we have to pay taxes till we're up to our nostrils in debt, to support a Governor Tiemann, a University of Nebraska with economists like Everett Peterson, a former Chancellor Hardin and Congressmen Hruska, Curtis, Denney, etc. Yet not once do they come out and tell the consumer that it would take less than a two per cent increase of the consumer's spendable income, going directly to the farmer to give the farmer 100 per cent of parity income.

Lincoln, Neb.

A long-time city official retires, his job vanishes into thin air and he is not replaced and life goes along as well as before. The job that has recently been abolished has been costing us taxpayers quite a sum of money each year.

Leaving us to speculate futilely on how many more such positions on all levels of government could also thus be eliminated, saving us countless thousands of dollars.

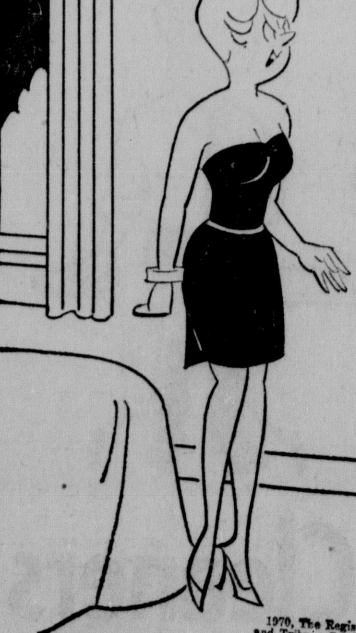

We little guys are the innocent victims of a bureaucratic Frankenstein, and there is absolutely nothing we can do about it. Where would it begin? Worse still to think about — where does it all end?

Program Of Social Services Urged For Housing Project

Implementation of a program of social services to help the low-income families at the Northwood Terrace housing project has been urged by John Goessman, executive director of the Lincoln Community Council.

Goessman, who is also chairman of the committee responsible for screening and recommending tenants for the housing project, said that families being housed in the 78-unit project at 23rd and Y are "often the ones with social and economic problems."

He urged that social service agencies commit themselves to work with the tenants of Northwood Terrace.

Failures Noted

Goessman said other public housing projects which have also mixed the different types of low-income families — the low-income, married university couples and the elderly — "have not worked out, most likely because the tenants' problems were not solved."

ADVERTISMENT

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Don't keep worrying whether your false teeth will come loose at the wrong time. For more security and more comfort just sprinkle famous PASTEETH on your dental plates. PASTEETH Denture Adhesive Powder holds false teeth firmer longer. Makes eating easier. Won't sour under dentures. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feel. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get PASTEETH today at all drug counters.

"We have here the chance to learn from the mistakes made elsewhere," he said.

He said those community agencies which have the capacity to provide the necessary services should re-examine their priorities and study approaches for helping the low-income at Northwood Terrace. "The agencies will probably need to expand their programs and secure additional funding," he said.

Through such an approach, Goessman said, "we can provide these people with a satisfactory living space and an improved condition of life."

Often Need Help

He said families often need help in the social service areas of family counseling, financial counseling, homemaker services, legal services, home health care for the elderly and day care service.

If the social and economic problems of the low-income can be solved while they are living in the housing project, "we then have an excellent opportunity to break the cycle of poverty," he said.

"We are dealing with people who have found it extremely difficult to satisfactorily contend with the pressures of our society," he said. "Some have a difficult time making a living wage, making a marriage work or keeping a clean home."

Goessman said that where low-income families, married university couples and the elderly are mixed together, "we are talking about people with different needs, different interests and different life styles."

He said that solving the individual problems would be a big step in helping the families get along.

He stressed that the solving of problems takes "the effort of all available community resources — not just the work of a single organization like the Lincoln Housing Authority."

Make Or Break It

The success or failure of attempts at solving the problems, he said, "can make or break the project."

"I am optimistic that the project can be successful," he added.

He said he is now working to get one particular social service agency involved.

Goessman also noted that the biggest provider to the agencies in the Community Chest adopt a priority system in providing money.

No. 1 Priority

"The No. 1 priority should be providing money for services for the disadvantaged," the Community Council executive director said.

Goessman said another high priority should be the providing of money to those who offer solutions to the community problems identified as the most urgent.

"We have a tremendous opportunity to do something about the problems of these people," he said "and I would hate to pass it up."

14 Mexican Newsmen Die In Plane Crash

Poza Rica, Mexico (AP) — A twin-engine plane carrying Mexican newsmen on the campaign tour of presidential candidate Luis Echeverria Alvarez crashed into a hill near here Sunday killing 19 persons. There was one survivor.

Officials said 14 newsmen, four crew members and a doctor were killed. Another newsmen was reported seriously injured.

The plane was a piston-driven Convair 240 owned by the Federal Electricity Commission. Echeverria's plane landed safely shortly before the crash. He cancelled his campaign trip and returned to Mexico City.

The plane crashed into La Vega Hill about 40 miles north of Poza Rica, which is near the coast about 130 miles northeast of Mexico City.

Search teams from the government oil monopoly Pemex located the wreckage and took bodies to Poza Rica.

The Poza Rica control tower said it had received no word of any trouble from the plane's pilot before the crash.

Officials said the reporters and photographers on the plane were from Mexico City. The plane had left from there earlier in the day.

POSTCARD by

Stan Delaplaine

A couple of Boy Scouts passed the house in the rain. They were on opposite sides of the street. They were talking about something important.

Talking on walkie-talkies. That is why they walked on opposite sides. If they walked on the same side, there would be no point in the radios. See?

I would have gone out and given them a little wig-wag Semaphore from my Boy Scout days. But I imagine that communication has gone forever.

I can still send a little Morse. . . . And 73s to all.

We are a communicating bunch. Much of it without point except to chatter.

"Yrs. of the 15th inst. received and beg to reply . . ."

Lot of it angry: "If this bill is not paid by the 15th of the month . . ."

Tragedy: "Dear John, I don't know how to say this but . . ."

At present I am caught in the jaws of a computer. The computer writes: "This bill is seriously overdue. Please return with check. Do not spindle, fold or mutilate."

I wrote back: "This bill was paid. See Xerox of check enclosed."

The computer digested this in its rumbling internals and wrote: "Unless immediate payment is received, this account will be given to our attorneys."

The computer does not accept phone calls.

Another computer is sending me books on how to make your child brighter. Improve his soggy little mind.

The first one was sent free—I cannot resist ads that say: "Free. No obligation."

I read the book. It seemed the way to make the monsters brighter was to sit down and do their work with them. "Be a participant."

I didn't want to get involved. I wrote: "Since there is no obligation please cancel." As an afterthought—a polite bloke, I said: "Much obliged."

I was certainly right. The books keep coming—we now have a library of six. Along with them come bitter letters from the computer. "It is now six months and have not received payment. Be advised that etc."

A lot of communicating since Sam Morse rapped the key and sent: "What God hath wrought."

Treat your hungry papa bear & young cubs to this SMOKEY THE BEAR HERO SANDWICH:

2 cups Frank's Quality Kraut, drained
1/2 cup blue cheese dressing
6 hero rolls, 7 in. long, split
Mayonnaise
1 lb. sliced tongue
2 medium tomatoes, sliced
1 medium onion, sliced
Cucumber slices
(Makes 6 servings)

Combine Frank's Kraut and dressing. Toss lightly and chill. Spread rolls with mayonnaise. Layer slices of tongue, tomato and onion on bottom halves of rolls. Top with Frank's Kraut mixture (1/3 cup each) and tops of rolls. Secure with picks and garnish with cucumber slices.

Invitations to business luncheons come to me by telegram: "You are cordially invited to view the newest thing in gas pipes . . ."

When I was in knee pants, telegrams were serious business. The Grim Reaper and Western Union were in the same league. When the Western Union boy came on the block, grandma peeked from behind the curtains and held her breath.

"She ripped it open and turned white as a sheet," she reported that evening to grandpa. "I ran over quick as I could with the smelling salts."

Grandma always got in on the action. A born reporter.

I wonder what the Boy Scouts were communicating on the walkie-talkie? Not much I imagine. It was how they were saying it. The electronic communicators.

That's what we used to do with wig-wag flags. Getting a hundred yards apart. To wig-wag what we were going to say anyway when we got together.

Monster Diamond Slabs Predicted

El Segundo, Calif. (AP) — Scientists have synthesized a rare "white" carbon they say could be molded into artificial diamonds the size of a suitcase or larger.

"We're talking about slabs of synthetic diamond that would sell for dollars per pound instead of hundreds of dollars per carat," said James McClelland, a physicist for Aerospace Corp.

Diamonds are a form of carbon. White carbon is an ash-like substance that forms on graphite, the soft form of carbon used in pencils, after exposure to heat of 6,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

White carbon's tiny crystals, a few thousandths of an inch in diameter, are transparent and have virtually the same hardness and density as natural diamonds.

Only minute amounts have been created, so far, but McClelland said in an interview that research has shown that they can be pressed together into slabs or fused into various shapes — impossible with natural diamonds.

Potential applications include super strong portholes for submarines and spacecraft, scratchproof lenses for cameras and telescopes and better and cheaper grinding wheels for industry, McClelland said.

Military applications might include see-through armor for aircraft and tanks.

Law Violations Probed

Rome (AP) — State Prosecutor Nicolo Amato said he is investigating alleged violations of Italian laws governing organ transplants.

Cadillac '70

Own a Cadillac?

Of course you can!

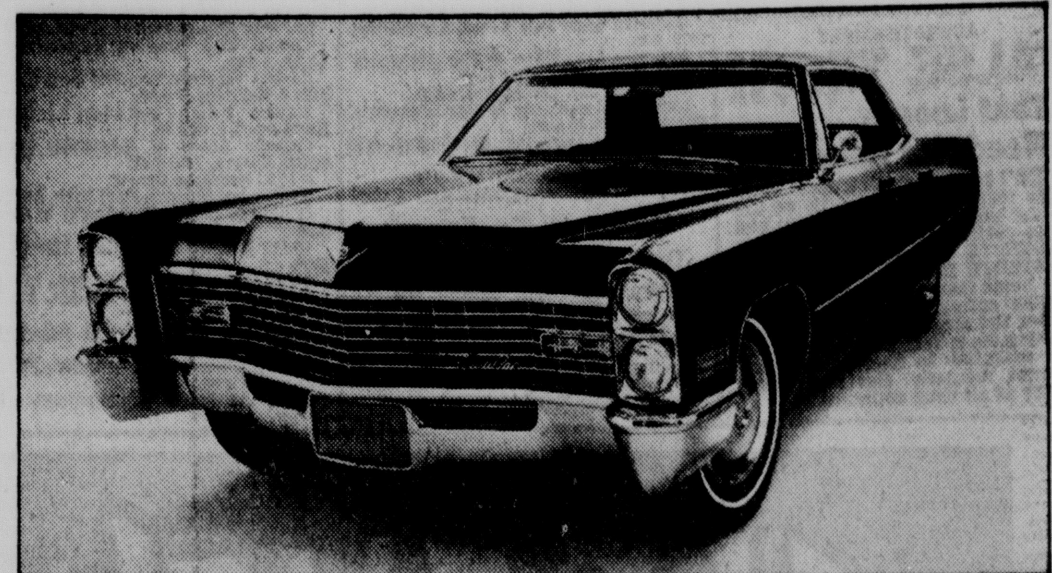

1966

Four years old, but its classic beauty and tasteful elegance still give it a distinction that only Cadillac offers. And because it's endowed with Cadillac engineering and craftsmanship, plus so many desirable comfort and convenience features (you'll even enjoy variable-ratio power steering with a 1966 Cadillac) it's likely to offer more driving pleasure and owner satisfaction than most new cars in its price range.

1968

A previously owned 1968 Cadillac offers so much more than many new, fully equipped, medium-price cars. Of course you'll enjoy Cadillac luxury, elegance, comfort and craftsmanship. But you'll also be impressed with Cadillac's big 472 V-8 engine and the precision of its standard power steering and power braking. All this plus the pride of ownership a Cadillac provides.

1967

How can anything this luxurious sell in the "medium-price" range? To provide you with the kind of comfort and convenience features offered by a 1967 Cadillac (nine chances out of ten it'll even have Automatic Climate Control), new medium-price cars have to move way up in price. And then you still won't have a Cadillac, with the total driving pleasure for which the car of cars has long been renowned.

1970

Even the newest model of the world's finest luxury car—a car of uncompromising elegance, comfort and performance—competes in price and economy of operation with cars of far less stature. Thousands of loyal Cadillac owners will testify to this fact . . . and also to the fact that a Cadillac will traditionally return, on resale, a larger proportion of its original cost than any other car built in the land.

Poll Says Majority Favors Volunteer Army Over Draft System

By LOUIS HARRIS

Although three out of every four support the recent draft lottery plan instituted by the Nixon administration, by 52% to 38% the public would like to see the entire draft system scrapped and a volunteer army substituted for it.

Easily the most appealing argument made in behalf of a volunteer army is that then "only young men who want to serve in the armed forces will have to." This argument receives the support of 67% of the American people.

Only a relatively small minority, just over one in four, see dangers in such a volunteer method of recruitment for the armed services. For example, the argument that a "volunteer army would destroy the American tradition of civilians defending the country in time of war" is rejected by the public by a margin of 56% to 29%. Similarly, the warnings that "a volunteer army will create a professional military force that would be a real threat in a democracy" is also turned down by a count of 55% to 24%.

President Nixon has said that his administration is now studying plans for conversion of American armed forces to a volunteer status and that he personally would look with favor on such a plan. It is conceded that pay levels for men in the service would have to be raised substantially in order to make the branches attractive enough to compete with civilian opportunities.

Those interviewed were asked to express agreement or disagreement with the statement that, with a volunteer army "it would be easier for the U.S. to fight a war such as Vietnam, and that is good." This proposition divided the public down the middle, with 42% agreeing and 40% in opposition. The volunteer army is seen by some as a safety valve to solve the problem of young men who do not want to serve in a war such as Vietnam, but there is no mandate to the leaders of the country to use a volunteer army to go off and fight in other wars.

Recently, a cross section of 1,615 households was surveyed in which the question was asked:

"Would you favor a volunteer

LOUIS HARRIS

Plan Studied

army as a substitute for the present draft lottery system or would you favor keeping the present draft system?"

VOLUNTEER ARMY
	Favor	Oppose	Not Sure
Nationwide	52%	38%	10%
By Age
Under 30	54%	37%	9%
31-49	51%	41%	8%
50 plus	50%	38%	12%
By Education
Grade school or less	47%	37%	16%
High school	49%	41%	10%
College	59%	34%	7%
Younger people, especially those subject to the draft, and the more affluent favor the volunteer army idea most. They most often observed that the trouble with the present system is that it compelled many young men not in sympathy with the war effort to be subject to the draft. The frequently volunteered that even though the lottery was an improvement, the most equitable system would be to make the armed forces entirely voluntary.

In this century, one of the cornerstones of U.S. manpower recruitment policies for the armed services has been that a draft was not only necessary to obtain the necessary number and quality of men during wars and national emergencies, but also that it was more democratic for all able-bodied civilians within draft age to serve.

It is now evident that the public has turned against this tradition as a result of the Vietnam experience. And with the weight of public opinion behind it, it is probably a good bet that a volunteer army will be in the offing before long.

The central argument that in time of national peril it is a matter of duty and obligation on the part of the citizenry to take up arms in defense of the country has been clouded by the ambiguities of Vietnam. The apprehension expressed by some liberal critics over the power which would accrue to the military with a wholly professional army at its disposal has not convinced the nation.

The survey sought to test some of these arguments by asking the cross section: "Let me read you some statements which have been made about a volunteer army.

For each, tell me if you tend to agree or disagree.

STATEMENTS ABOUT VOLUNTEER ARMY
	Agree	Disagree	Not Sure
Positive
A volunteer army is good because only young men who want to serve will be in it	67%	23%	10%
A volunteer army would make it easier for the U.S. to fight a war such as Vietnam, and that is good	42%	40%	18%
Negative
A volunteer army would destroy the American tradition of civilians defending the country in time of war	29%	56%	15%
A volunteer army would create a professional military force that would be a real threat in a democracy	24%	55%	21%

Clearly, the appeal of a volunteer army is that it satisfies those who dislike military service as well as those who would like to see a professional army. Today, both groups make up a majority of the American public. (Copyright 1970 by the Chicago Tribune)

Cathedral Wedding

Potpourri nosegays of flowers, centered with green candles and arranged against banks of woodwardia, appointed the chancel of the Cathedral of the Risen Christ for the wedding of Miss Mary Jo Manzitto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Manzitto, and Eldon F. Kohl, son of Mrs. Beatrix Kohl of Lincoln, and A. F. Kohl, Jr., of Crete, which took place on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 24. Msgr. Crowley solemnized the 4:30 o'clock ceremony, and the wedding music was played by Myron Roberts.

Long-sleeved, floor-length frocks of mint green crepe, designed in the A-line mode, were chosen for the attendants including Miss Julianne Manzitto, who was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Lori Nigro of Omaha; Moss Calli Kohl of Crete; Miss Peg Woodrum and Miss Sue Anderson. Beneath the fitted bodice with their cowl necklines, the frocks were completed with lace-edged tunics of moss green velvet. Each carried a potpourri nosegay centered with a green candle.

Clifford Kohl of Crete served his brother as best man, and the groomsmen and ushers were Neal Anderson, Joseph Glenn, Kenneth Benes, Rick Shibata, Tom Keady and James Dobler.

The bride appeared in a gown of white peau de soie and cluny lace in the cameo motif. The Empire bodice, patterned with an overlay of lace which veiled the Mandarin collar and slipped over the shoulders to ornament the leg-o'-mutton sleeves, was smoothly sculptured above the A-line silhouette skirt. The gown had accentuated back fullness which extended from the Empire line into an aisle-wide cotillion train. Her double-tiered train-length veil was held in place with a pillbox hat of lace and she carried a nosegay of white roses, gardenias, gypsophelia and stephanotis.

Upon her return from a honeymoon trip to Colorado Mr. Kohl and his bride will reside at 847 So. 45th St., in Lincoln.

The bride is a former student at Peru State College and will enter the Lincoln School of Practical Nursing in March. Mr. Kohl is attending the University of Nebraska.

Cotner Terrace
Wedgewood Manor
Happy Hollow Heights

Just one more weekend to go, and January 1970 will be a memory. When the calendar turns to February we would wager that the days will move much more rapidly toward spring — at least there will begin to be a few more halfway warm (33 degrees?) days between the bitterly cold ones. This will be a change from January which offered a choice of bitterly cold or bitterly colder.

In suburbia, the social calendar is beginning to thaw out, shake off its post-holidays slump, and is becoming filled with activities such as parties, coffees, and trips. By the beginning of the second month of the year, everyone will be back in the swing of things, we suspect.

The January festivities at the Happy Hollow Heights home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Thompson came in the middle of the month, and the theme song was "Happy Birthday".

The Jan. 15 celebrant was Lauri Thompson, who observed her eighth birthday on that date. The festivities included going out to dinner, and returning to 630 No. 54th for cake, ice cream, and an evening of games.

Joining Lauri for supper and the party following were Barbara Jones, Cindy McCormack, Jean Ann Larsen, and her sisters and brother, Lynda, Lisa, and Jeff.

A busy spot on Wednesday, Jan. 21, was the Wedgewood Manor home of Mr. and Mrs.

in the suburban areas

Duane Schweitzer. On that day, 1110 Sycamore Dr. was the scene of a neighborhood coffee, for which Mrs. Schweitzer and Mrs. Vy Bilodeau were co-hostesses.

The coffee was a farewell courtesy for a departing neighbor, Mrs. Vernon Jewett. Capt. and Mrs. Jewett, and their daughter, Marjorie, will leave today for their new home in Flint, Mich., where Capt. Jewett will continue his work with the Salvation Army.

Thursday evening, Jan. 22, brought activity to 7300 Englewood in Wedgewood Manor.

The occasion was a bridge party, with Mrs. Dean W. Tebo as hostess. Her guests for an evening of card playing were Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Mrs. Merwin French, Mrs. Darrel DeGraw, Mrs. Louis Schamp, Mrs. Duane Hunter, Mrs. Joe Dappen, and Mrs. Basil Monkellen.

As all parents of school children know, last Thursday and Friday were free days for the students at the end of the semester. Many families took advantage of the four-day holiday to do a bit of short-range traveling.

Among those taking to the roads for the weekend were Cotner Terrace residents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schultz and their children Peggy, Darin, and Rose. Their destination — Colorado.

Leaving Wednesday after school, Mr. and Mrs. Schultz and their family made their first stop in Henderson, Colo., where they were the guests of Mr. Schultz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Schultz. Then it was on to Eldora, and the home of Mr. Schultz's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Galen Nelson, June and Jerry.

The skiing was wonderful, we understand, and enjoyed by the whole family — except, of course, for Rose, who at six months doesn't appreciate winter sports, or trips to Colorado.

Afternoon Service

At a 3 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 25, the marriage of Miss Alice Walter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Walter, to William Doeschot, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Doeschot of Firth, took place at St. Thomas Aquinas Church. The Rev. Donald Imming, assisted by Dr. Clarence Forsberg, solemnized the service and the wedding music was played by Miss Catherine Gillespie who also accompanied the vocal soloist, Avon Vanderwege.

Mrs. Richard Johnson, the matron of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Rosealee Bell of Minden, and Miss Jean Walter wore alike floor-length Victorian frocks of ecru lace and red velvet. The long-sleeved Empire bodices, fashioned of lace, were smoothly fitted above the A-line velvet skirts, and each carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Owen Doeschot of Pawnee City served as best man, and the groomsmen and ushers included Tom Mundt, Edward Kroese, Jr., Dean Lefferdink of Firth and Neal Kuster of Roca.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of embroidered Chantilly lace and satin. Designed with long sleeves and a high neckline the Empire bodice of lace was sculptured above the floor-length lace-over-satin skirt. A bandeau of satin and lace held to the head her lace-bordered bouffant veil which extended into a cotillion train, and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mr. Doeschot and his bride will reside in Lincoln.

Gay Nighters Spotlight The Zodiac

We have no way of knowing how much of the future was predicted, but with all 12 signs of the Zodiac on hand almost anything could happen.

We're talking, of course, about the fun and frolic that the members of the Gay Nighters Club had on Saturday evening when they had their Zodiac party at The Knolls.

There were costumes — each giving a clue as to the birth date of the wearer, and the Zodiac was exceedingly popular in the matter of decor.

Planning the dinner dance — and its theme — was a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Magee, Mr. and Mrs. William Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson.

Preceding the dinner dance the committee couples were hosts and hostesses at cocktail parties at their homes for Gay

Nighters members and their guests.

Diet Doesn't Need To Be Unpleasant

Josephine Lowman

I believe in making life and reducing as pleasant as possible. I do not think one has to be grim to be successful. There's no use kidding! It takes a lot of self-discipline to stick to a reducing diet, but there are some tricks which make it much easier. Let me give you a few of them today.

1. Be sure that your diet is high in protein foods. These are not only fine for your health, but as the old saying goes, "They stick to your ribs." There is truth in this oldie because proteins take longer to digest and are therefore more satisfying.

2. You might like whipped butter. It has about one-third less calories. You get more flavor for less calorie cost.

3. Eat slowly. You will be happy with much less food than if you gulp it down.

4. Make your own salad dressing using tomato juice flavored with lemon juice and garlic or onions or both. You can have all you want.

5. For a reducing trick think of the lower calorie breads such as gluten and protein or thin sliced melba toast.

6. Eat lots of green salads, fruits and vegetables. These are health foods because of their high vitamin and mineral content. They are especially valuable on a reducing diet because of their bulk. They fill you up and are preventive to constipation when the food intake is cut. Most of them are low in calorie count.

7. For in-between meal snacks it is helpful to have some cauliflower buds, carrot and celery sticks on hand always. When that hollow feeling strikes, you might eat something you shouldn't while preparing the buds and curls.

8. Consomme is a great comfort to the dieter at the beginning of a meal or in-between meals, especially hot consomme in the wintertime. One cup has only about 20 calories.

9. Did you know that you can make a very good low-calorie substitute for whipped cream by whipping up some fat free milk crystals? This should make you happier when it tops your fresh fruit cup or gelatine.

10. Water-packed fruits are no higher in calorie count than fresh fruits.

11. You might try five small meals a day instead of three larger ones. I wrote about this recently.

Designer, Writer, Director

Puppetry is an art and sometimes it is a profession. Therefore we felt that we aren't going too far out on a limb if we predict a bright future for Harold J. Johnson, a sophomore at Lincoln High School, and the youngest puppeteer to have been chosen director for a public show at the Playhouse.

The young director will be assisted by prompter Bill Dahlberg, a University of Nebraska student, and Puppeteers Trish Haynes, Susan Lowry, Michele Moore, Kim Olson, Barton Smith and Bob Thurber.

"Moonlanding," directed by Mrs. Lee Ridge of Lincoln, will be the first show at the Playhouse which uses shadow puppets exclusively. The script includes dialogue from the Apollo moonlanding.

Lincoln youngsters may remember Harold Johnson from his comedy routine with "The Malone Brothers" in the City Recreation Department's "Show Wagon" last summer. He became active in the Puppet Theatre eight months ago and is the youngest Puppeteer to have been chosen director for a public show at the Playhouse.

The young director will be assisted by prompter Bill Dahlberg, a University of Nebraska student, and Puppeteers Trish Haynes, Susan Lowry, Michele Moore, Kim Olson, Barton Smith and Bob Thurber.

ABBY: humorous

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter signed "MORRIS' WIFE." She complained because after her husband had been elected president of his lodge, someone said, "I heard Morris accepted the presidency of his lodge. That was real nice of him. I heard nobody else would take it."

My heart goes out to Morris. Here in Aschaffenburg,

Germany, there are not many men named Morris who have recently been elected president of their lodge. Only me! Inasmuch as I happened upon this "honor" by default, my wife has been the recipient of many curious (if ignorant) inquiries, since the letter signed "Morris' Wife" appeared in your column.

I think all the Morris around the world should form a "MASTER MORRIS CLUB," wherein all men named Morris who have become lodge presidents may gather once a year to exchange views and share experiences. A prize could be offered to the Morris who could come up with the most novel reason for refusing the nomination for reelection next year.

In order to keep the club truly exclusive, gentlemen named "Maurice" need not apply. Sincerely,

MORRIS M. MANION,
ASCHAFFENBURG,
GERMANY

DEAR MORRIS: Your sense of humor is delicious. And the fact there is a Morris in Germany who still has a sense of humor is indeed a revelation. But please, no international clubs for Morris. I'm published in Rome, Ireland, Mexico, Tokyo, Thailand, Spain, Brazil, Canada and America, too!

Mothers Club

The members of the Alpha Phi Mothers Club will meet on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ollie Christensen, with Mrs. Floyd Ryan and Mrs. Lyle Franklin as assisting hostesses.

Opening lead — king of hearts.

history. It occurred in the Sweden-Italy match during the World Bridge Olympiad held in New York in 1964.

The deal was played on Bridge-O-Rama before a very large audience. The spectators, regardless of their sympathies, were in a high state of excitement when the hand was shown on the huge electronic device. They saw that the Swedish North-South pair could make a vulnerable grand slam by simply guessing the location of the king of spades.

A great roar reverberated from the audience when South (Svennerik Berglund) bid seven diamonds. They knew that the Italian pair at the first table had already bid and made six diamonds.

The Italian West led the king of hearts, taken with the ace. Now Berglund took five long minutes to study the situation as the spectators argued back and forth whether he would correctly guess the location of the king of spades and thus avoid a heart loser.

Most of the audience thought that declarer would cash the ace of spades and lead the queen, discarding a heart when East followed low.

The spectators sat transfixed until, at long last, Berglund played a club to the ace, led the ten of spades, and finessed after West had produced the seven.

At this point pandemonium broke loose. The cheers, the groans, the shouts, the applause, and the I-told-you-so's that followed must surely have been heard in Stockholm.

Berglund then proceeded to make the grand slam by ruffing two clubs in dummy and discarding a heart on the ace of spades. The Swedish team thus gained 13 international match points instead of losing 16 on the deal, and the eventual outcome was that Sweden won the match by a score of 66 imps to 49.

Bowlers Take Bows

Capital City bowlers are back in the limelight this week, getting ready to take their bows for a highly successful Lincoln Open in their annual city tournaments.

The nine-day affairs get under way Saturday at four local bowling establishments and officials of both tournaments report entries shaping up much as they did last year when the girls drew 375 teams and 400 doubles and singles entries.

"We'll be about the same as last year," says Maxine Meyer, secretary for the distaff tourney which closed out its entries last Saturday. "I'm still filling out a few squads. Right now we're down a little bit on doubles and singles, but I hope they come up."

"Things look pretty much the same," says Mark Hegg who's handling the chores for the men. That tournament's entry deadline is Wednesday.

Bernie Missing

One thing won't be the same when the men take to the alleys at Hollywood and Bowl-Mor.

For the first time in many years, men's secretary Bernie Kossek won't be on hand.

Bernie is recovering from an ulcer attack which placed him in intensive care at a local hospital for several days last week.

Kossek, who has been a part of the Capital City bowling scene for 40 years now, wasn't entirely removed from this year's tourney, however.

According to Hegg, who has been filling in for Bernie, "he's helping whenever he possibly can."

"There's a lot of information that Bernie carries in his head. And he's made some arrangements over the phone."

Hegg says the day after Kossek was released from intensive care, he had the tournament books in his hospital room and had made up a team schedule.

Bernie's dedication and enthusiasm have always added to the tournament. He will be greatly missed, but back soon we hope.

Enthusiasm Higher?

If last November's Lincoln Open has had any effect on this year's city tournaments, it has been to create more excitement among the participants.

"I can't say for sure," says Maxine Meyer, "But I think it has created an enthusiasm among our bowlers. We have so many new bowlers getting into the tournament this year. We've got girls with 79 and 82 averages getting in."

Maxine says she has had to add a 9 p.m. squad for Sunday, Feb. 1. "If we need it, we can also have the 9 p.m. squad the last Sunday," she says.

Preparations Long

Although the tournaments are only nine-day affairs, preparations actually begin sometime in October the year before and work isn't finished until after the victory banquets in March.

"You're not working on it constantly during that time," says Maxine. "But we have to work on new rules, getting them ready for the girls to vote on even back in October."

"In December we start recording the averages, but right after New Year's is when we really start," she says.

"January is our biggest month. Then we work from 12 to 14 hours a day on it (the tournament)."

Besides recording averages, Maxine says she and her staff of four must class entries into "A" and "B" teams and sort them according to averages for doubles and singles.

"It's a lot of work and you put in a lot of hours," Maxine says. "But it's a lot of fun too."

Northeast Advances To Head Of Class

... LNE TO FACE CHALLENGERS FROM SOUTHEAST, EAST THIS WEEK

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Now it's Northeast's turn. Coach Ed Johnson's Capital City Rockets take over the top spot in the Class A high school basketball ratings.

But if things go true to form in the jumbled big-school division,

Thirid Hernandez Brother Slated To Fight Tonight

Omaha — Another in the line of fighting Hernandez Brothers will be in action at the Omaha Civic Auditorium here tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Omaha City Golden Gloves Tournament.

Dale Hernandez, a brother of pro fighters Art and Ferd, will be going after the 132-pound title.

Two of the top fights of the night are expected to come in the 119 and 165-pound classes.

Billy Napier, a former Omaha champion, and Manuel Puentes, who won a championship in El Paso, Tex., last season will battle at 119 pounds while Tony Novak, a former light-heavyweight king, has trimmed down to 165 pounds and will meet Mike Reed.

that means the Rockets are sure to tumble this coming weekend when they face a pair of intra-city games against Southeast and East.

Omaha North, ranked No. 1 last week for the first time in the school's history, managed to hang on to the coveted position for just five days before stumbling to Omaha Tech.

Northeast, the only Class A club to suffer but a single loss, will face its stiffest test against cross-town rival East, which has just a pair of defeats.

But Southeast, off to a slow start, is vastly improved and gets the first chance for an upset in a Friday night clash at Pershing Auditorium.

Northeast's single loss to Lincoln High was avenged later in the campaign. East's two defeats were to Omaha quintets Tech and Central, which keeps the Spartans in the lower half of the ratings.

Omaha Benson slides up to No. 2. The Bunnies lost to Northeast at home but count a win over Central (in turn a winner over Tech) as the key to their high ranking.

But this weekend could sound the death note for Coach Don Knauss' quintet. They tangle with both North and Westside, just behind them in the ratings, on Friday and Saturday.

Lincolnite Yates Wins Open Class At Denver Show

Denver — Bill Yates of Lincoln won the championship here in open judging at the National Western Horse Show with his final victory in the stake class.

The horse that provided the winning formula for Yates was Flasha Otto, owned by Col. R. L. Robertson of Colorado Springs.

Yates also achieved a second place win in the stake class with his horse, Mainstay.

Yates was a busy young man here at the show as he earned three first place ribbons, a second and a fourth with Flasha Otto, and placed in the ribbons in all of the open class divisions with Mainstay.

Job Open: $238 An Hour Plus Fringe Benefits

Miami (P) — If you're out of a job, there's an interesting opening in Miami's sunny climate.

—$250 a week.
—All expenses for a suite at the Classy Four Ambassadors hotel.

—Six gourmet meals a day.
—And, you work just nine minutes a day. That's six days a week and comes to $238.09 an hour.

There is one catch: your nine minutes daily will be spent in the ring as a sparring partner for heavyweight boxing champion Joe Frazier.

Frazier's human punching bag for three years has been a Philadelphia heavyweight named Don Warner.

A patched-up, bruised up Warner has quit and headed North.

"I didn't have enough tape to hold his ribs together," said Yank Durham, manager of Frazier. "The body blows from Joe during the past three years finally wore him out."

That's why you get $238 an hour.

Foreman's Win String Of 14 On Line Tonight

New York (P) — Heavyweight George Foreman puts his unblemished 14-fight string as a professional on the line in Madison Square Garden tonight, and an impressive showing will earn him a shot at experienced Gregorio Peralta.

Manager Dick Sadler says if Foreman looks good against Irish Jack O'Halloran in their scheduled 10-rounder, he will fight the 10th-ranked Peralta in the Garden Feb. 16, the night Jimmy Ellis and Joe Frazier battle for the heavyweight championship.

Foreman, who weighs around 218, counts 12 knockouts in his 14 victories.

Mr. Iba Likes The Challenge

... COWBOYS UPSET BUFFS

By The Associated Press
"If I were young, I'd probably be insane. But at my age I'm excited about it. It's a challenge."

With those words, Henry P. Iba last November began molding his 36th and last Oklahoma State basketball team — the least experienced of any Iba-coached team and considered by some the least talented as well.

Saturday afternoon in Boulder, Colo., Iba's Cowboys achieved one of the great victories in his long and brilliant career. They upset defending Big Eight champion Colorado, 65-62, with an almost picture-perfect display of Iba-style basketball, throwing the Buffaloes into an uphill struggle to retain their conference title.

"The boys played a fine game of basketball," Iba said. "I'm proud of them, because they worked hard for it, and they got it. I think we're capable of playing more basketball like this."

The victory left the Cowboys tied with Colorado and Nebraska for fifth place in the Big Eight, all with 1-2 league records. It also broke a five-game Oklahoma State losing streak and raised the Cowboys' season record to 10-5.

The Cowboys take dead aim on another of the Big Eight's high flyers tonight when they entertain Kansas State in Stillwater's Gallagher Hall. K-State, which lost 66-60 to Athletes in Action in a Saturday exhibition game at Manhattan, Kan., are 3-0 in the Big Eight and 12-3 over-all.

Kansas, which beat Valparaiso 74-58 Saturday for a 10-4 season record, plays at Iowa State tonight in the only other conference game scheduled. Kansas is 1-1 in the Big Eight and Iowa State is 1-3.

Oklahoma, which boasts the best overall record in the Big Eight, 11-2, and is 1-1 in the conference, takes on Washington University of St. Louis tonight in a non-conference game at Norman, Okla. The Sooners next engage in league action Wednesday night at Colorado.

Rockets Win 15th Straight

Denver (P) — The Denver Rockets led practically all the way for their 15th straight American Basketball Association victory Sunday, defeating the Dallas Chaparrals 127-118.

The rejuvenated Rockets have won 17 of their last 19 games and pulled to within 1½ games of New Orleans, top team in the ABA's Western Division.

Denver can tie the league record for consecutive triumphs by beating the Nets at New York Friday night. The record of 16 was set last season by Oakland, now playing in Washington.

After Denver took a 33-26 first-quarter lead, Dallas rallied to cut the gap to two points. But in the final two minutes of the half the Rockets out-scored the Chaparrals 13-2 for a 67-54 margin.

Spencer Haywood, rookie Rocket star who was voted the most valuable player at the ABA All-Star Game Saturday in Indianapolis, scored 28 points and grabbed 26 rebounds.

Knights Gain Tie, But Fall To 2nd Place

Omaha (P) — Mike Parizeau slammed in a goal at 14:21 in the third period here Sunday night as the Omaha Knights earned a Central Hockey League tie of 3-3 with the Tulsa Oilers.

Parizeau's goal was the second in the final period for the Knights. Bryan Lefley scored the other at 7:22, his second of the night.

Tulsa had gone ahead 3-0 with just over six minutes gone in the first period on goals by Ron Ward, Tom Martin and Cal Swenson.

The tie dropped the Knights into second place in the league as Fort Worth beat Kansas City, 3-1.

Royals' Owner Says No Bidding War On Pilots

Milwaukee (P) — There'll be no bidding war between Milwaukee and Dallas-Fort Worth, should Seattle's American League baseball franchise go up for grabs, according to Ewing M. Kauffman, owner of the Kansas City Royals.

The league will set a definite price on the Seattle Pilots' franchise and "the price is $8.8 million" said Kauffman, who will chair a four-man committee set up to handle the complicated situation at a meeting in Oakland, Calif., Tuesday.

YANCEY WINS WITH 69 ... Ignores Nicklaus' Charge In Crosby Golf

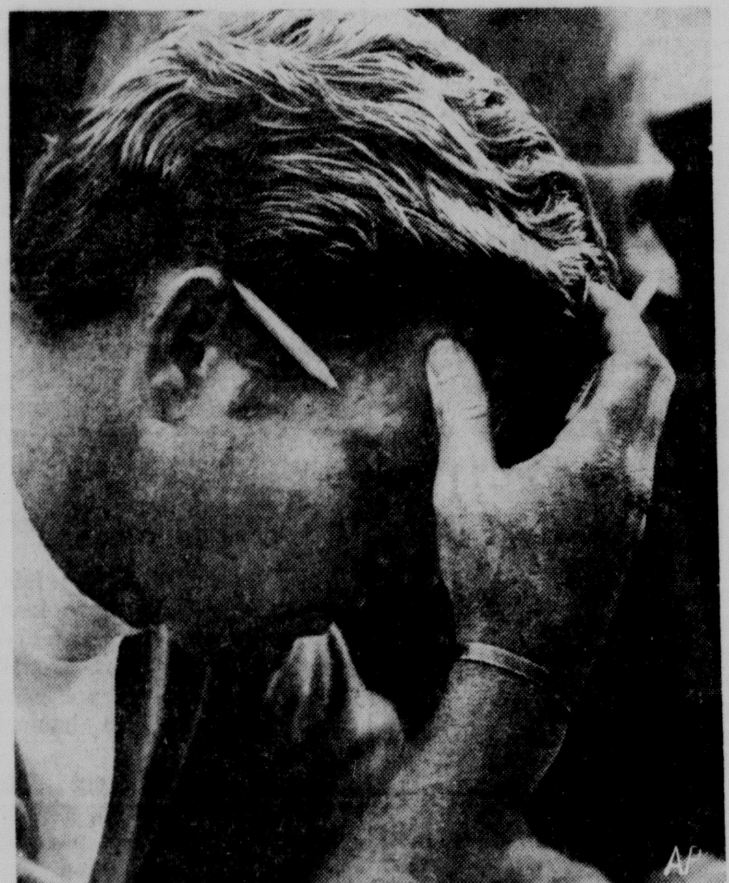

Pebble Beach, Calif. (P) — Bert Yancey serenely ignored a brilliant charge by Jack Nicklaus, shot a solid three-under-par 69 Sunday and won the $125,000 Bing Crosby Pro-Am Golf Tournament.

Yancey, 31, a one-time West Pointer and a tour regular for seven years, finished with a 72-hole total of 278, 10 under par for the tournament and one stroke ahead of Nicklaus. First prize was $25,000.

Nicklaus, making his first start of the year, stormed in with a sparkling 65, climbed over 15 players and finished with a 279 total.

The $14,300 check for second made Nicklaus the third million-dollar winner in the game's history. Nicklaus, three days past his 30th birthday, has career earnings of $1,010,824 and joined Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper on the select list.

Palmer and Casper had their problems on the final round. Palmer had a 79, seven over par on the 6,701-yard Pebble Beach links, and finished far back at 292. Casper didn't finish. His caddy, who had his clubs, failed to report in time for Billy to tee off and Casper was disqualified.

The charge by Nicklaus, playing several groups ahead of Yancey, carried the burly blond into a tie for the lead at one point. That was when Nicklaus canned a 20-foot birdie putt on the 15th at about the same time Yancey bogeyed the 11th.

But Bert, winner of five previous tour events, took a birdie two on the next hole and had the lead again.

—DISTRICT GOLDEN GLOVES— Aamco To Make Strong Title Bid

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Despite the lack of a former champion in its 12-man stable, the Aamco Boxing Club is expected to make a strong run at the team title this week in the Southeast District Golden Gloves.

The tourney is slated for 8 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday with weigh-ins set for 2:30 Wednesday at Pershing Auditorium.

The other two leading challengers for the team title, Roberts Dairy and Fairbury, both have former champions leading the way, but Aamco in its first year as a Golden Gloves sponsor also is made up largely of first-year fighters under the guidance of trainers Buzz and Jack Truax.

However, it has been the most active team in the area and most of its fighters have had five or more bouts this season, fighting in smokers in Lincoln, Fairbury and Hastings.

While there are no former champions in the Aamco stable, Doug Emery has been to the Midwest Golden Gloves in Omaha, fighting there a year ago as an alternate.

Emery was named to the Lincoln team for the Midwest tourney when Dale Strough, who defeated him in the Southeast District finals, was suspended because he had not yet reached the minimum age of 16.

Emery owns two decisions over Fairbury's Stan Fentress in Lincoln smokers this season and dropped a decision to Manny Puentes of Omaha in his last outing. Puentes was an El Paso, Tex., Golden Gloves champion last winter.

Emery, Mitch Lowe and Ron Whitebear will be vying for the 132-pound title from the Aamco stable.

Dale Strough's older brother,

Dean, will be the 125-pound entry while Mike Wilcox will go in at 139.

Fred Orduna is the 147-pounder with Rich Olson at 156, Fritz Brinkman 156, Dave Hill at 165, Harold Hill at 178 and heavyweight Sal Muratella.

Olson was named the outstanding fighter in a recent smoker at Hastings, a smoker in which six of the eight Aamco entries won.

Heavyweight Murtella, a 210-pounder, scored a decision win over last year's Southeast District 178-pound champion Gene Truaba of Fairbury in a Fairbury smoker a couple of weeks ago.

He lost a decision to veteran Lonnie Rutt of Hastings in the Hastings smoker and decided Pedro Ramirez of Omaha in the last Lincoln smoker.

Nichols shared third at 283, each with a final 70. Defending champion George Archer had a 72 for 284 and was tied at that figure with John Jacobs, Paul Harney and Don Massengale.

The final round was played in near-perfect weather, sunny, warm and virtually no wind. But winter rules were used, with players allowed to move the ball on the fairways because 10 days of torrential rains left the course very, very muddy.

Bob Rosburg and his amateur partner, San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie, won the pro-am section with a best ball score of 252.

—FIRST HORSES ARRIVE—

Kemling Stable Now At Fonner

Grand Island — The first horses arrived at Fonner Park this week for the coming 30-day season in Grand Island.

Early arrivals include public stables trained by Roy Landis, Eugene Warnke, Orville Kemling, Marvin Long, Warren Lamont, and Ted Tidenoure. They are making use of excellent training facilities made available to them by the construction of a new barn, which houses 280 stalls and a quarter-mile training track.

The initial consignments are headed by Paul M. Kemling's stakes-winning mare Bold Accent; W. A. Morris' Bold Sword; and Michael Kemling's Hesa Kem, winner of the 1969 renewal of the Fonner Park Juvenile Stakes.

Pistol Pete Passes Hayes in Scoring

... HOUSTON UPSET; UCLA, KENTUCKY CONTINUE TO WIN

By Associated Press
Unstoppable Pete Maravich and unsung St. Mary's of Texas proved the undoing of Houston Cougars, past and present, in a college basketball weekend marked by unpredictable twists.
Maravich, Louisiana State's slender sharpshooter, popped in 55 points as the Tigers bowed to No. 2-ranked Kentucky 109-96 Saturday night and vaulted past Elvin Hayes, the former Houston All-American, into second place in the all-time scoring parade.
Pistol Pete, topping his season average by eight points, finished the night with a total of 2,905 ... 21 more than Hayes and 68 less than Oscar Robertson, the all-time leader from the University of Cincinnati.
Meanwhile, at San Antonio, Tex., little St. Mary's startled Hayes' alma mater, the nation's seventh-ranked major power, 76-66 in one of the season's monumental upsets.
Top-ranked UCLA stayed one jump ahead of Kentucky by blasting Wyoming 115-77 at Los Angeles while, at Seattle, Washington led Washington State 7-6 at halftime before "opening up" on the way to a 37-36 nod.

Maravich, who canned 21 of 44 shots from the floor at Lexington, Ky., was only the second deadliest marksman from Louisiana. Tyrone Marrieneaux, New Orleans Loyola's 6-foot-10 pivotman, connected on 17 of 24 from the field and added 19 free throws for a 53-point binge in a 121-99 victory over Virginia Commonwealth ... and grabbed 22 rebounds to boot.
Fourth-ranked St. Bonaventure kept pace with UCLA and Kentucky, each 14-0, on the dwindling unbeaten list by outscoring arch-rival Canisius 62-49 in its 12th victory. No. 5 New Mexico State trimmed Texas-El Paso 90-77 for a 16-1 mark. No. 8 Marquette went to 13-1 with an 82-73 verdict over Xavier, Ohio, and No. 10 North Carolina State, 13-1, shaded Duke 77-76.

Davidson and Pennsylvania, ranked 11th and 14th, respectively, in The Associated Press ratings, skirted upsets in overtime struggles, the Wildcats taming Princeton 71-64 and the Quakers Beating St. Joseph's Pa., 63-56.
No. 13 Ohio University downed Kent State 77-68; No. 15 Southern California whipped Arizona State 108-95 and Iowa, which shared 18th with Louisville in last week's AP poll, walloped Tennessee Tech 96-68.
But Louisville bowed to Drake's Missouri Valley Conference leaders 86-75 while Kansas State, tied with Duke for the No. 16 spot, went the way of Houston, taking a 66-60 exhibition spanking from Athletes in Action, a strong but unheralded club team.
South Carolina, No. 3; Jacksonville, No. 6; North Carolina, No. 9; Illinois, No. 12 and Notre Dame, No. 20, were idle.
Despite the sniping of Maravich, Kentucky rolled to a 49-39 halftime edge over Southeastern Conference foe LSU and won going away. Dan Issel scored 35 points for the Wildcats and four teammates were in double figures.

St. Mary's, one of the nation's top college division teams, wiped out an early 12-point deficit and handed Houston its second setback in 14 games, 6-foot-9 Doug Williams leading the charge with 24 points.
Curtis Rowe pumped in 25 points, Sidney Wicks 24 and John Wall 20 as UCLA streaked to a 60-37 halftime margin over Wyoming and led 80-55 before coach John Wooden cleared his bench midway in the second half.
Wooden directed his post-game comments to the Pacific 8 Conference game at Seattle, where Washington and Washington State got caught in a slowdown struggle. "The rules committee better get busy," said the UCLA coach. "They can't do it (change things) with marks on the court. If teams really want to stall, you just can't stop them."

In the low-scoring St. Bonaventure-Canisius scrap, big Bob Lanier paced the Bonnies with 32 points and helped hold the losers to 16 at intermission.
New Mexico State shot 54.4% from the field in leveling Texas-El Paso, 11-3 for the second time this season. Marquette came from behind to subdue Xavier, 2-12, and extend its home court winning streak to 37 games. Three free throws by Al Heartley in the final minute sealed North Carolina State's Atlantic Coast Conference nod over Duke, 9-3.
Drake, 13-4, ran its Missouri Valley mark to 7-0 in stopping Louisville behind the hot shooting of Jeff Halliburton, who hit 16 of his game-high 29 points in the second half.
In another MVC contest, Cincinnati rallied in the second half to trip Memphis State 78-69. It was the Tigers' 27th consecutive defeat in conference play.

Mead — Hunting activity at the University of Nebraska Field Lab here during the 72 day hunting season which concluded Jan. 11 was well above that of the previous year.
Seven hundred more hunters took 30 more game animals than a year ago, according to F. C. Hastert, operations manager.

Hastert reported that 2,391 hunters searched 5,000 acres of the Field Lab, bagging 374 animals of which 316 were pheasants. Thirty-six quail, 16 rabbits, and six squirrels were taken.
More than 2,000 of the total number of hunters were from the Omaha area, with the Fremont and Lincoln areas, as well as Saunders County, represented by approximately 100 hunters each.

Hastert pointed out that hunters were courteous, with no unusual incidents or physical damage of any kind encountered.

Van Arsdale Peps Cincinnati Win

Gibson Loses End Of Finger

Manhattan, Kan. (AP) — Vince Gibson, Kansas State football coach, lost the middle finger of his right hand at the first joint in a freak accident Sunday.

Gibson was conferring with his staff in a meeting room at Ahearn Field House, and inadvertently had the finger in a hole in the table.
He rocked back in his chair and the chair slipped, throwing him to the floor. The finger, still in the hole, was severed.
Gibson was taken to St. Mary's Hospital. The athletic office said he was expected to be released Monday.

Caddy Causes Disqualification For Casper

Pebble Beach, Calif. (AP) — Billy Casper was disqualified for the final round of the $125,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am Golf Tournament Sunday when his caddy failed to arrive with his clubs.
Casper, a $1 million winner on the tour, had a 54-hole score of 218, nine strokes off the pace. He was scheduled to tee off at 7 a.m., PST, with Doug Sanders and Joel Goldstrand.

But Casper's caddy, who had his clubs, did not appear at the first tee and Casper was disqualified.

Niekro Hospitalized

Atlanta (AP) — Atlanta Braves pitcher Phil Niekro was rushed to an Atlanta hospital Sunday with what a team spokesman said was an attack of appendicitis.

PICKS ELLIS TO BEAT FRAZIER

Old-Time Boxer Says Today's Fighters Better

Miami Beach (AP) — Old time boxing hero Tom Heeneey gazed at Jimmy Ellis' pounding a bag.

"Negroes have saved the sport," he said. "They like the lure of fast money. The black man still has a hard road while white kids skid through college and get the good jobs."

Heeneey's hair is silver, his midsection round. His somewhat battered claim to fame was a heavyweight championship fight — which he lost — in 1928.

"Jimmy Ellis will lick Joe Frazier because he's a carbon copy of Tunney," Heeneey mused as he eyed the brown-skinned Louisville bomber. "He would have licked everybody around in my time, too."

Heeneey doesn't agree boxers from the sport's "golden era" were superior to today's champions.

"Don't let the old codgers tell you today's kids can't fight," he said. "They are better in all respects. They would have beaten all the big ones in my day."

"They train better, eat better and live better lives than we did."

Ellis, 36, met Frazier, 16, in New York for the world title. Ellis is the World Boxing Association claimant to the throne while Frazier represents the six states where the WBA doesn't reign. It will be settled and the world will have one champion for the first time since Cassius Clay was stripped of the crown.

Heeneey stands up for the modern set, no matter what the sport. "The 1969 Mets would have beaten the hell out of the '27 Yankees," he said.

The native of New Zealand has made Miami Beach home for 20 years. He spends many of his idle hours watching Ellis train and driving across the causeway to Miami to watch Frazier.

"Ellis would have beaten Jack Dempsey," he claimed, throwing his era to the bottom of the boxing ladder. "Any fighter of Ellis' type would have."

Scientists Recommend Marketing Of Chickens Bearing Cancer Virus

Washington (AP) — A government panel of scientists has recommended that chickens bearing cancer virus be allowed on the market as long as the birds don't look too repugnant.

The basis for the recommended change in inspection standards, according to Agriculture Department officials, is scientific evidence disputing any link between cancer virus in chickens and disease in humans.

Federal chicken inspectors presently condemn all of any bird carcass showing lesions or tumors, which have traditionally been accepted as a visual sign of presence of avian leukosis or Marek's disease viruses.

The two diseases, lumped together as leukosis in department records, are the largest single cause for rejection of frying chickens. Of the 176 million fryers slaughtered under federal inspection in November 1969, inspectors condemned 2 million for leukosis.

The disease has a much smaller effect on older chickens and turkeys.

Specialists say virtually all chickens harbor the viruses in varying degrees in their bodies. When the virus gets out of control, the chicken's body fights back, and lesions and tumors develop although the disease usually passes.

But agriculture specialists say tests have shown that the presence of tumors, or their numbers, bear no relation to the amount of virus in the birds' system.

The finding reported by a panel of eight veterinarians and animal-disease specialists would not stop the condemnation of birds whose internal organs shows active signs of the disease.

But chickens showing only signs of the virus which causes the disease would be declared no threat to human health. The panel recommended that condemnation of such birds be "only on an aesthetic basis," according to Richard E. Lyng, assistant secretary for marketing and consumer services at the Agriculture Department.

Thus, officials said, if tumors are detected on the wing of a bird, the wing could be cut off and used in a product like hot dogs and the rest of the bird sold as cut-up chicken — all without posing a threat to human health.

Under present practices, the whole chicken in such a case would be condemned.

The panel's report has not been made public, but officials discussed it freely in interviews.

The recommendation is now under consideration by the surgeon general's office, which is expected to report back to the Agriculture Department within a week. Any change in inspection standards would be up to Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin.

Lyng says he was startled by the panel's recommendations. But he and other Agriculture Department officials say they are keeping an open mind on the subject until the surgeon general issues his report.

12-Year-Old Girl Drowns Rescuing Boy From Water

Floral, Ark. (UPI) — Rena Sharp, 12, edged across thin ice over a stock pond Sunday and pulled 10-year-old Tony Cousins from the water. She pushed Tony toward shore then fell through the ice herself and drowned. Rena, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Sharp of Floral, was walking near the pond when she saw the boy in trouble.

A HUGE KEG PARTY—AND NO ONE INVITED

It may have been the biggest keg "party" ever when a few Lincolntes went through 400 beer kegs in a short time Sunday, but no one was invited except a State Liquor Commission inspector, who was on hand to witness the whole thing. The "party" really got started last Tuesday night when burglars left open the door on a railroad boxcar and $9,000 worth of beer froze. Sunday afternoon, as the photo shows, the kegs were popped and all 6,400 gallons went down the drain. The beer belonged to the Wiesner Distributing Co. (Star Photo)

Governor Cahill's Son Arrested; Possession Of Marijuana Charged

©The New York Times

Philadelphia, Jan. 25 — John P. Cahill, the 19-year-old son of New Jersey's governor, was arrested here Saturday night for the possession of Marijuana.

The arrest in a rundown section of the city came only four days after Gov. William T. Cahill, in his inaugural address, told of his alarm at "the awesome increase in the use of narcotics by our youth, in the city and suburbs, rich and poor, black and white."

His son was stopped at about 9:30 Saturday night by a highway patrolman who said the Austin Healey that the youth was driving repeatedly circled a block in a South Philadelphia neighborhood.

Routine Search Made
"A routine search" conducted by the officer, James McNesby, revealed a marijuana cigarette and a half ounce of loose marijuana in the youth's jacket.

Young Cahill was then booked on a charge of possession, a felony in Pennsylvania, and was released early Sunday morning on $200 bail, paid at the police station by Paul J. Sherwin, New Jersey's secretary of state and an old family friend.

After conferring through much of Sunday with Sherwin and other aides, the governor said from his home in Collingswood that he and his wife "feel the same distress and sorrow that any parent would feel in the same situation."

harsher one toward drug pushers, also said: "Mrs. Cahill and I feel that John must be treated the same as any other young man in similar circumstances."

However, according to Sgt. George Zanko of the Philadelphia Police Department, the procedures followed in young Cahill's arraignment were "highly irregular."

Instead of being brought to a courtroom, the arraignment was held before Judge George Woods in a cell block at police headquarters. This is normally not done, said the sergeant, except in cases involving maximum security or epileptic prisoners.

Reporters Got Tip

At 1:55 a.m., police reporters who received a tip on the youth's arrest asked Woods when the arraignment would be held. He told them he did not know.

Police Chief Frank L. Rizzo said Sunday that departmental records show that the suspect was released to Sherwin at 1:45 a.m. The judge, who set hearing on the case for Feb. 4, could not be reached for comment.

80 M-16 Rifles Stolen But Men Soon Caught

Fort Gordon, Ga. (AP) — Two men tied up a soldier and stole 80 M-16 rifles from company headquarters Sunday but were captured minutes later near the Army post, authorities said.

All of the weapons were recovered. Authorities identified the suspects as James Allen Harris, 23, and Lionel Garret, 20, both from Washington, D.C.

A federal warrant obtained by the FBI charged them with stealing government property.

Thieves Ordered Held

A U.S. Commissioner in nearby Augusta, Ga., ordered them held in the Richmond County jail under $15,000 bond each.

Army officials said there was no indication either man had ever been connected with the service at Ft. Gordon. Law enforcement authorities said they had not determined where the weapons were being taken.

The M-16 is the government's latest weapon for the foot soldier and the primary rifle for U.S. forces in Vietnam.

A post information officer said two men entered the headquarters of Co. "D", 1st Battalion, 1st Brigade about 1:30 a.m.

Spec. 4 Frank E. Stewart, 20, of Homer City, Pa., was alone in the building, he continued.

Guard Tied

The officer said the men pulled a pistol on Stewart, tied him up and then obtained keys to the weapons room in the rear of the building.

The rifles were loaded on a

3,500 Anticipated At State Ag Expo

Omaha (AP) — Some 3,500 farmers, grain, feed and fertilizer dealers are expected for the Nebraska Agricultural Exposition opening Tuesday in the Omaha City Auditorium.

The exposition will serve as the 20th annual fertilizer dealers training conference of the Nebraska Fertilizer Institute and the 41st annual conference of the Nebraska Grain and Feed Dealers Association.

More than 125 firms will set up exhibits for the three-day event. A member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Sen. Carl Curtis of Nebraska, will speak on Friday.

Security Markets Slump Not Bad For All People

By Meryle S. Rukeyser

Have the declining security markets been bad news? A correct reply would ask: "Bad for whom?" Certainly short-term speculators for the rise were frustrated and even long-term investors in many instances took a substantial depreciation in the market value of their assets.

On the other hand, the decline of many stocks to more reasonable price-to-earnings ratios and the fall in prime bonds prices to levels offering unprecedentedly high yields created a bonanza for those with available cash to acquire securities more reasonably priced than they had been for years. When George F. Baker, builder of the old First National Bank of New York and close ally of J. Pierpont Morgan, was young, it was his ambition to be able to live on interest and dividends.

With high rated bonds yielding 8% or more, the wages on capital are unprecedentedly high. As of now, the best bonds return far more than average favored stocks. If indeed the fiscal efforts of the Nixon administration and the monetary restraints imposed by the Federal Reserve are successful in cooling off the inflation, then bonds at prevailing levels may constitute a non-recurring bargain. But skeptics raise the question whether even temporary inflation control won't eventually be weakened by demagoguery based on seeking votes through excessive government spending for giveaway schemes.

Balanced Position

The balanced investor, who hedges against future uncertainties, does not go out on a limb and take an "either or" position. Until the storm of economic readjustment has been completed, the cautious seek protection in bonds, on the one hand, and in so-called defensive stocks of industries, such as drugs, tobacco, and public utilities, which do not depend on boom conditions for earnings, on the other.

Theoretical Qualification

The theoretical qualification on the attractiveness of bonds is that they don't provide a hedge against a further rise in living costs or participation in future national economic growth. But there are securities, such as convertible bonds and convertible preferred shares, which at present offer a good return and contingent beneficial sharing in such future growth as may eventuate.

Outside of the bond department, high yields are to be found in some of the public utility and railroad stocks.

Consolidated Natural Gas common has been selling to give a current return of 6.8% and Norfolk & Western Railway of 7.7%. Other high yielding rail stocks include Chesapeake & Ohio and Louisville & Nashville.

In the convertible preferred stock field, Orange & Rockland

How is practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper-left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.

THE GIRLS

"The trouble is that I work five days a week . . . and you spend seven days a week!"

"I imagine you're so tired of getting all this out and putting it away each day, you're just about ready to give things away!"
